THE BREA CITY ORCHESTRA COMES TO LIFE FOR YOU

As the sweet notes fill the air, you become increasingly less aware of your troubles. You are almost literally swept away by the sounds of familiar rhythms from musicals, classical concertos, and big band tunes. You begin to realize that all that really matters is having a great time. That's the magic of music in your life, that's the magic of the Brea City Orchestra.

ABOUT US

The Brea City Orchestra is just three years young. It was established by the Cultural Arts Commission, with a grant from The Brea Foundation.

The Orchestra has performed for several events including Brea Fest, Senior Center reopening, Arovista Park Dedication, Pops Concerts, Gallery receptions and "Klassy Konzerts for Kids." The Orchestra boasts the ability to play a variety of styles to suit all musical tastes.

MUSIC DIRECTOR

Turkish born Leon Guide directs the Brea City Orchestra with a masterful and dedicated hand. Guide was a child protege on cello and violin. He later played with the U.S. Army band, taught instrumental music for a local school district, and directed the La Mirada Symphony for over 20 years. Guide has, with the cooperation of the community and the band members, brought the Brea City Orchestra to a level of musical excellence.

MUSICIANS

The Brea City Orchestra is comprised of forty talented volunteer and professional musicians. These people dedicate their time and abilities while they share their love for music. The results are fantastic.

Anyone with the love and the talent for playing music is qualified to be a part of the band. In fact, new participants are always welcome.
