

ORLD

ST VIET CONG FORCES TODAY
ack against a government military y provincial capital 75 miles south-heavy casualties." In other ground attacked a district capital 85 miles mortar, recoilless rifle and sniper ualties" were reported in the raid
e. A third Viet Cong force of uni inflicted "heavy" casualties on a ing an abandoned airfield at Tuy ies of Qui Nhon and Nha Trang.

ST CHINA PROBABLY WILL EX-ice soon, a ranking official of the ent Conference warned today. The nic progress was cited in support of conference begin urgent negotiations of nuclear weapons. Both President Harold Wilson of Britain have ap-give the issue top priority. Italy
Lord Chalfont, Britain's chief urrent disarmament session is "the

V. — PRESIDENT JOHNSON TO-Than's assurance that he would at my disposal" to bring peace to pledge to Johnson in a letter handed J. Goldberg Thursday for delivery was in reply to a message brought when he presented credentials to Johnson thanked Than for past e Communists - to settle the n to continue them.

— A MOB OF MORE THAN 1,000
n the gates and fence of the U.S. rocks at the two-story building and ns on the walls. The demonstration new U.S. ambassador to Indonesia, on the Indonesian island of North U.S. Embassy here, American Con-id 30 armed Indonesian police troop-it made no effort to stop the attack.

PREMIER GEORGE ATHANASSIAw government into a parliamentary ite overwhelming prospects of dehe ruling Center Union party prom-ge Papandreou they would boycott approve King Constantine's new gov-caucus Thursday to bring down the established parliamentary procedure, ody will not come before Aug. 9.

ATION

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S APPOINT-adviser Abe Fortas to the Supreme ck from some Republicans in Cong-Thursday when Sen. John J. Willd not support the appointment benade "a far wiser choice." He was
G. Hall, who charged in a House en "a quiet participant in some of ons involving the Johnson adminis-tellation announced Thursday a Sen-aring on the appointment of Fortas been postponed from Aug. 5 to Aug.

TEAMSTERS UNION PRESIDENT

THE DREAT

51ST YEAR—VOLUME 48

BREA, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1965

Brea Plan Submittal Hits Delay

Waiting On OK of Others

While the Orange County Committee on School District Organization has approved the unification plan for the three Brea school districts its submission to the state board may be delayed until after Aug. 19. At that time the committee is expected to take final action on the unification plans for other districts in the northern tier of the county.

The hearings on some of the other districts have been torn with strife and at its meetings following the hearings committee has been divided on what final action should be taken on unification.

Wants Master Plan

The state board wants a complete master plan for the northern part of the county and the county committee is having plenty of trouble putting one together.

The plan of unifying the three Brea districts — Brea-Olinda Union High School District, Brea School District and Olinda School District — along high school lines — has twice been turned down by the state board.

In answer to a question at the hearing in the high school last Thursday night, Chairman John Barton said that the understood that the state board turned down "basically the same plan" the first time because Yorba Linda was not included in it.

While the door was left open to Yorba Linda the second time the state board turned back with others and called for a master plan for the northern section of the county.

Barton said that Breans had reason for chagrin since his committee was convinced that the local districts had complied in every way with the unification requirements.

Mrs. Marilyn Williams said that Brea had met all the criteria and that "the committee heartily endorses your efforts

Little Bit of Rain Came

The first rain of the new season, four hundredths of an inch, was measured in Brea this morning. The prediction is:

Partly cloudy today and Saturday with a few early morning sprinkles. Light showers have already touched many segments of the county.

A temperature range from 60 to 84 expected over the next 24 hours.

The official five day forecast calls for no precipitation except for scattered thundershowers over the mountain areas. Temps are expected to remain near normal for this time of year.

W.D. Rentz Rites Set Saturday

Services for William Dorchester Rentz, 53, of 1015 E. Third Ave., La Habra who died earlier this week at a Fullerton hospital, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in Coleman Mortuary Chapel, La Habra, with the Rev. W. Leslie Lowrey, minister of the Brea Christian church, officiating.

Private inurnment will follow at Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier.

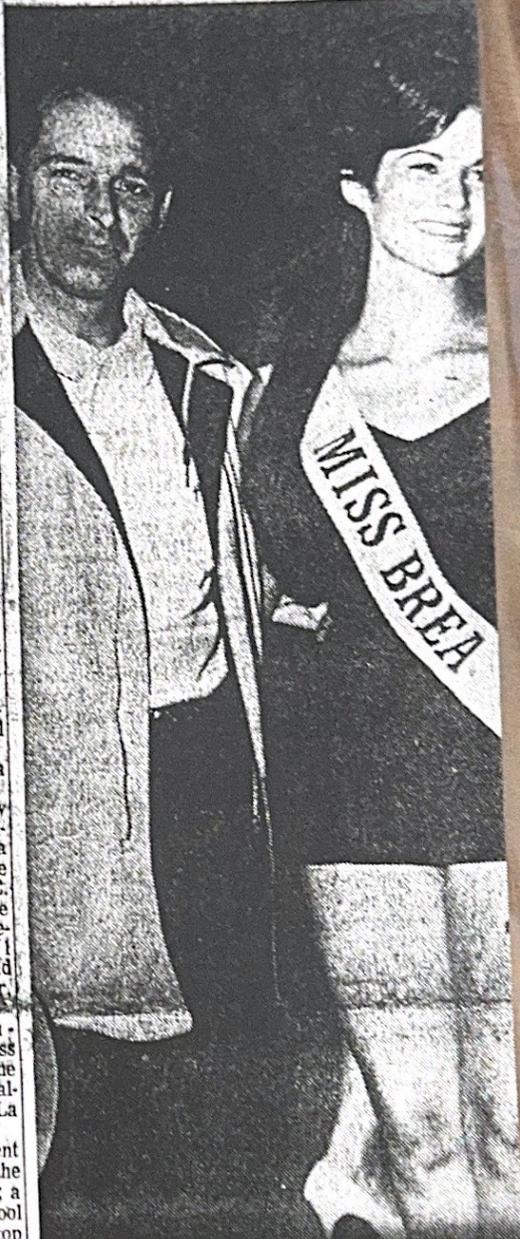

Rentz had lived in La Habra for 19 years.

He is survived by his widow Edna of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Sharon Unger, La Habra and Kathy Ann of the home; one brother James E. Rentz of San Luis Obispo; three sisters, Mrs. Jean Van Heukeltem, La Habra; Mrs. Mabel Felton, Newport, Wash., and Mrs. Dorothy Lindgren, Denver, Colo.

The deceased had been engaged in the furniture business in La Habra and Brea for the past 13 years. He was a realtor for eight years also in La Habra and Brea.

Rentz was a past president of the business section of the Brea Chamber of Commerce; a member of the Olinda School district board; Fullerton Hilltop Elks Lodge 1993 and Brea Citrol Lodge 656, F. & A.M. of Brea.

Civic Center Brea's New

BREA PRINCESS — Cynthia Ann Green of Brea was crowned a princess in the Aloha Queen contest at

Open Town Soon

These construction was now... by along its course this... establishment of a drive...

of the town, who will... at their homes this... of a shortage of volun... drive are requested to...

Let's Go To Hobby Show... hurry, hurry! Come... the Hobby Show! Scher...

Let's Go To Hobby Show

hurry, hurry! Come... the Hobby Show! Scher... this year, it will...

the record of the Brea... in years past is an in... will be able to see every...

shaping up this week... and Dr. C. Glenn Cur... taken an active part in...

The high school will... chosen as the place for...

Begun On Building

Construction began... on the Lawson building... just north of the woman...

and Bordeaux, local... in charge of the work... stood the structure will...

Crowd Of 200 Expected For Legion Dinner

A crowd of 200 is expected at the Legion Clubhouse dining-room on Tuesday evening, March 16th, when Post Commander Bill Butler will be head chef in charge of a family dinner with Legion Auxiliary members and youngsters as honored guests.

At last report, most beer was still scheduled to be the main course for the evening. Members of a committee to help Butler with the big job were chosen Tuesday night at the regular Legion meeting.

Legionnaires at their regular meeting this week laid further plans for athletic teams and will sponsor teams in baseball, softball and bowling this year, as well as their basketball team which has already hung up a fine record for itself.

Plans were also made for a party to be held April 18th for the benefit of the athletic fund.

The Post voted and carried a motion to award a token of appreciation to Joe Burke, past commander of Post 161, for his outstanding work for the Legion in Brea. The award will be made later in the year. Burke has distinguished himself in the past few months in a campaign for new members which has put the hall well above the 100 mark and entitled him to honorary place on a national Legion roll for those who have brought in 100 or more new members.

GIRLS PREPARE OUTSTANDING DINNER FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEES

High school trustees, their wives and guests were honored on Tuesday evening at a dinner party, when Miss Cora Fuller's home economics students planned, prepared and served a delicious, delicious and original meal for them at the cottage on the high school campus.

The trustees who were present included President Joseph F. Wilson, Mrs. Bernice O'Brien, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Wilson were also guests. Deft Wilbur, trustee, and Guy LeBoutier, clerk of the board, were not able to attend.

Invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Barker, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Van Dehoff, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Wilder. Mr. Barker and Mrs. Van Dehoff are principal and vice-principal, respectively, of the high school.

The group enjoyed omelets and punch before the meal, and the dinner menu included southern fried chicken, and angel food cake served with a special pineapple-whipped

Committee For Youth Center Meets Monday

Members of the committee charged with the duty of directing the construction of a youth center in Brea will meet at 7:30 Monday evening, March 15th, at the home of Mrs. Clark Olson, one of the founders, on 4th Street.

Letters have gone out this week to the various organizations in the city asking for suggestions or donations of such groups, such as a building. The committee is anxious to have the center, and will meet again at the Monday meeting.

This is the first time the group will meet officially, and the preliminary planning for a number of exciting things, including the selection and the name of the center is expected to be completed tonight.

Mrs. Olson has promised some of the services necessary for the building.

New Furniture Store Will Be Open Tomorrow

Joe's Furniture Store will open at 123 South Pomona, 111 east of Madison, in a brick building, Monday, March 15th, at 10:00 a.m. Joe, a former La Brea man, has come to Brea to complete the life of home furnishings according to the owner, those family and friends who have experienced the efficient business service here and said that he had the best of stock electrical appliances and furniture available.

The new store is expected to bring out of the store visitors along the main shopping street. It is in the building that occupied by the Fry's Hardware Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spelling, who will operate the Post Command Post in the theater building, at 123 South Pomona, expressed pleasure in opening the store for the Brea community. The opening is tentatively scheduled for April 1st.

The store will specialize in furniture and art supplies and will also feature hand-crafted furniture, knitting supplies, and similar items.

BENEFIT GAME WON BY POST 161

A goodly crowd was on hand last Friday evening at the high school gym to watch the American Legion Post 161 basketball team leave the Brea-Orange rivalry game behind with a decisive score of 41 to 24 in a benefit game.

Brea Boys Among Winners In Annual Novice Track Meet

More than 100 high school track men from schools throughout the county took part last Friday in the annual Orange County Novice Track Meet, held each year at Brea-Orange High.

And though the local team did not place in the final winners, there were several local students who did.

In the 4 Division, Richard Murray took first place in the high hurdles and placed fourth in the pole vault. In the same division, Walter Mosley placed second in the 1000 yard race and tied for third in the high jump.

Paul Trubel came in second in the mile and fourth in the 220 yard dash. Also placing in this division was Lynn Green, who stood second in the pole vault.

In the 5 Division, S. C. Britton placed first in the pole vault, probably his last major competition for the high school since he expects to leave with his family for Medford, Oregon, in the near future.

Don Miles in the 6 Division, took first in the same event, and Freddy Blinn, also a "C", tied for second in both the high jump and the vault.

Garden Green was winner of the mile for the seventh consecutive year, and was followed by Laguna in second place. Green made in the 1000 yard division too. A Garden Green 44, Laguna 37, Capistrano 32, Brea 17, and Tustin 8.

In the 8 Division Green, B. Laguna 22, Capistrano 17, Brea 7, and Tustin 7. In the 9 Division, Capistrano 22, Brea 17, Garden Green 15, Laguna 13, Tustin 12, and Tustin 8.

Track scores for all divisions follow: Garden Green 1004; Laguna 57; Capistrano 524; Brea 41; Tustin 25; and Tustin 21.

Junior Woman's Club First Social Event Is Dance Tonight

With an excellent social program, music and other features planned, and a large advance sale of tickets already made, the Junior Woman's Club is looking forward to a gay dance party as they hold their first social event tonight, Friday.

The Woman's Club on South Pomona will be the scene of the party, which starts beginning at 8 o'clock.

Admission is $2.25 per couple, or 10 cents single, and tickets will be on sale at the door. Anyone who wants to enjoy an evening of dancing is urged to come by the committee members.

DE GROFF HOME AFTER

Notable Consider For Local

Local... place at... to include... and work at... from at 8:30... nearly 100... number... Lane's... meeting.

The party... its first... of the... last... time... to take... that... changed... to... except to... those.

It... has been... out-of-town... of the... things were... the... success.

Mrs. Clark's... change of... mood.

Chief... planning... value... more... a success.

We expect... next week.

Legion L Brea Att Fullerton

Pauline Clark... over the... County Council... at the Legion... The business... luncheon.

Guests who... James Smith... Carl, Julia... Brea Livingston... Mrs. Williams... them.

Mrs. Peters... of Mrs... they... comparing... meeting in... Memorial Hall.

The... were... 44 new... tion. The... team... Distinguished... Nellie... of Brea... person.

District... new members... man Tom... Americanism...

Open Negley-Floral Dining Room, Shop

After over a month and a half of planning and hard work, together with considerable monetary investment, Elva May's Floral Dining Room and Gift Shop opens Sunday, March 4, for public inspection. The opening night dinner will be served Monday, March 5. These events may mean much for the civic history of Brea; the Negley initiative deserves praise.

There will perhaps be some surprises for those who attend the public inspection, but surprises or no, a fine dining and floral establishment will have been attempted in the city.

Transformation of what was once the First National Bank Building into a modern dining establishment has been handled with considerable imagination and taste. Visitors will be pleased to view the fine refrigeration and other kitchen equipment which Mrs. Negley has acquired. They will find many other pleasant features, including attractive counter facilities, and spacious table room.

Mrs. Irene Poucher is to be in charge of the dining room, it has been announced. She will be assisted by a staff of ladies including the Mesdames Opal Duncan, June Woody, Lorraine McCabe, and Benitia Jones, and by Leon Grahn. Mrs. Negley will be hostess in the dining room and will also take charge of the Floral and Gift Shop.

Dinners are to be served from 5:30 to 7:30. They will be informal, and the opening menu on Monday will feature ham and turkey. Reservations have been extended to Sunday. The open house Sunday will be from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m. The public is invited.

Johnson, Restaurant Man's Son, in Visit; Is Overseas Veteran

Now an apprentice seaman enrolled in V-12 training, T. J. Johnson, Jr., son of the local restaurant man, arrived in Brea last Saturday on a week's leave.

Entering the service in November, 1942, Johnson wears the Asiatic-Pacific and American defense ribbons as well as one battle star. He graduated at Brea-Olinda high school in the class of 1941 and has had varied experience working for the U. S. Engineering department

BREA Prog

SERVING THE FINEST LITTLE CITY

VOLUME XXXI

BREA, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1943

Launching of Tanker S. S. La Brea At Sausalito Symbolizes City

Bond, Garner, Open "Open House" Up Gas Stations

Two gasoline stations on south Pomona avenue have been stirred into new activity in recent weeks with Keith Garner taking over the lease of the Standard service station and F. Bond re-opening the long closed Shell station. Both stations have been undergoing general repair jobs and overhaul work, and the indications are that the new operators will offer the kind of friendly helpful service that Brea residents like.

Keith Garner worked for the past year at the Standard service station in Fullerton before he acquired the former Leachman-Canavella lease locally. Both he and Bond, who has had a station in Los Nietos, California, are from Oklahoma and are married. Garner has two children: Bobby, ten; and Linda Kaye, two.

Bond's two sons are older. One, Doyle, is a motor machinist mate, second class, serving with the navy in the south Pacific. The other son, Orville, seventeen, has already taken his pre-induction physical and expects to be called up soon.

Another coincidence is that both men have also worked for Douglas Aircraft. Bond says he did bearing work, and Garner states he has been a materials clerk. Garner, by the way, is still working the graveyard shift for the aircraft people at the Long Beach plant.

Both men state they will offer the finest in gasoline, oil, and petroleum by-products.

"Open House" Dance Honors Gheen, Troup

Over seventy-five local residents honored Brea Boys who are being called to uniform or who have already seen military service in World War II by attending an "open house" at the Legion Hall Monday night, February 26. Sponsored by local mothers and the American Legion authorities, the "open house" specially honored Paul Gheen, scheduled to leave Tuesday morning, February 27, for military service at Catalina Island, and Darriel Troup, who is due in Salt Lake city, March 6.

Students, as well as the many other local friends of the boys, were invited. There was dancing to record-player tunes, and a huge red-white-and-blue cake was served as the principal refreshment.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Lynn Bassett, Mrs. G. H. Gheen, Mrs. Frank Bickel, Mrs. Anne Carpenter, Mrs. Roy H. Davison, and Mrs. Frank Troup.

Among the returned servicemen who attended were Richard Davidson, Earl Chansler, Pvt. Daniel W. Ward, and Machinist Mate Milton Shanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Closson of 519 south Pomona avenue spent Monday in Whittier visiting friends.

GET PAPER READ

The Boy Scout-General Lower waste paper can be opened Thursday, March 1 closes Monday, April 1.

Magazines and newspapers be collected and should be in bundles 12 inches high.

Pick up dates two-Salt March 17 west of Pomona and Saturday, March 31 at Pomona Avenue.

A Personal View The Marinship Yard As Seen by Brea

What is in a seventeen dollar shipyard and what place there?

Mayor Emil Carlson, Cou L. A. Crowe and H. A. Monr M. R. Norins tried to find out they were conducted on a minute tour of the Marinship yard after participating in the launching ceremonies for the La Brea Hills.

The whole-view impression yard is one of massiveness stockpiles of metal and cally moving throngs of

Facing the yard from S one looks out over a intricate work of frameworks, building ing cranes, partially compl completed vessels, and an in able pattern of human ac

Pass Railway Track

As they drive into the y guests pass a railway tr numbers of trucks. Nearby truck drops its "trailer" steel tonnage, wheels que heads away for another.

Brea Progress
April 22, 1938

OLD BANK SIGN TO COME DOWN

As a result of a campaign by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, looking to the removal of old-out-of-business signs, permission has been received to have such an old sign removed from the former First National bank building at the corner of Ash street and Pomona avenue. It is understood that Street Commissioner Fred Boxall, as a city representative, will take care of the removal.

1.39 Inches to the Seasonal Total

Brought up to par by the beginning of February, Brea's rainfall average has now fallen behind a bit, and that despite the nice showers of last week-end. Rainfall observer Perry A. Stanley states that the recent storm has brought the city only 1.39 inches of the wet stuff, but has made the seasonal total 1.44 inches to date.

Last year at this time the city had sopped up 16.29 inches of rain, which is a difference of 4.85 inches. hat one might observe, could grow a lot of potatoes. (Or are you trying cabbage this year?) Anyway, March showers have brought us March flowers, so there is that much in all this.

But don't those weeds in the lawn grow fast when the rains come? Frank Forrest Gordon of 343 south Lower avenue who was out mobilizing his forces again on that vacant corner lot of his last Tuesday.

Other Petty Officer and Mrs. W. Goodrich with family spent the week-end in Brea visiting his mother. Mrs. C. Goodrich of east Elm Street, Goodrich is in the merchant marine, stationed at Avalon and Mrs. Goodrich resides at Bakersfield.

Mr. and Mrs. George Folkemer of south Pomona avenue entertained Sunday, the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Fry of Hemmington Beach and Miss and Mrs. Landeen from San Francisco.

Pilot Don Kleistner, who formerly lived in Brea, visited here at the end of last month, now on leave from military service, he is staying with his wife and her parents in a Haber.

Mayor Emil F. Carlson and the publisher of the Progress.

The occasion of the meeting was the assembling of members of the various chambers of commerce of Orange county and others to hear talks by a number of special representatives of the "Committee for Economic Development," an organization formed to assist in post-war planning.

Carlton Tibbets, Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Los Angeles Steel Casting Company was the guest speaker of the evening and spoke on how the C. E. D. program fits into the progress of Orange County.

First Grade Children Present Their Zoo

Many parents came this week to see the zoo built by the children of Miss Branson's first grade. The children sang songs and told about their animals and showed the picture books and stories that they had made. They read an animal story from their readers.

The climax of the program came when student trainers brought in life size animals for the guests to watch. Douglas Neederman brought in Jumbo, the elephant, and Jimmy Silva brought in Neeko, the giraffe.

The children recited this poem which was written by their teacher: Our teacher told us something, Something that made us laugh, She said that she wished that we would act like a tall giraffe. But of course you see a giraffe Has no voice at all.

He just stands up straight And is so big and tall. Teacher was only kidding All us girls and boys, What she meant was this: Stop making so much noise.

are several feet in diameter.

After the short program, the genuine coins illustrated and many others will be on display for all to see.

The public is cordially invited to come to this free meeting. Better be there by 7:45.

Spring Hits Reporter; He's Seeing Flowers—My, They're Lovely

Spring must have come early this year. The fertility of Brea soil, the abundant rains, the smile on that charming lady's visage, the way the sun glistens after the rain storms—all may be responsible.

But the wandering reporter must acknowledge the change of the season, because he passed the city park and could not help noticing the lovely stalks that are in bloom there. He thinks they are orchid in color, but will only risk calling them purple.

He substantiated his discovery when he went strolling southward on Madrona avenue. For—there in the front yard of the Brown residence at 342 south, the peach blossoms had come out in wonderful array. Mrs. Brown even pointed to her camella plant and, by gorry, it, too, was blooming.

All around town there are bursting roses, delicate carnations, budding and blooming flowers of a myriad of kinds.

Out on east Birch, way, way beyond the high school, they say lupins have even graced the whole blamed countryside.

Da-da-da-de-dum-de-de-dum—so goes the Spring song. Now, all together!

Have you any news? Phone Progress office, Brea 111.

Reveal New Chiksan Company Employees

Among nineteen new workers who were employed by the Chiksan company in February, seven are residents of Brea. They include: Mrs. Jessie F. Brown, Roy C. Gaudin, Mildred F. Garret, Merchant Benjamin Lucien Sharp, Jack and Mary Vest, and Dwight E. Ward. Miss Pat Hall, who entered the Chiksan sales department on March 6, has also been working part time as a fashion model.

Mrs. Eva Jarvis of south Madrona avenue, returned from a week's vacation in Long Beach.

torney was instructed to proceed with the opening of east Date street from Flower avenue to Laurel avenue.

It has been explained that the wage raise passed, effective March 1, also applies proportionately in the cases of street men who are paid by the day.

M. H. Reilly of 115 south Flower avenue was granted a permit to keep chickens for family use.

The council took no action on a bid received from O. R. Meissner to buy lot 26 of tract 258. All members of the council were present.

The Red Cross Needs Your Help

Over Three Hundred in Attendance At Opening of Floral Dining Room

Well over three hundred persons attended the opening of the Floral Dining Room and Elva May's Floral Gift Shop last Monday night, and they found attractive quarters, fine food, and pleasant service intermingled with many surprise attractions.

The famous Brea First National Bank building, transformed into modern quarters, was thronged with such crowds as had probably never before passed through its portals at one time. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Negley had arranged for attractive fountain facilities, a spacious dining room with flowered arbors, a comfortable private dining nook, to the left of the dining room a comfortable lounging room, and behind it quarters made into a children's nursery. The roomy kitchen outfit with a large refrigerator and excellent appearing oven facilities, had brought especially favorable comment during public inspection hours Sunday.

An orchestra, led by Kenneth Himes and formed largely of Brea-Olinda high student musicians, furnished one of the principal surprises of the night with its popular music. Special souvenir menus had been printed for the occasion and corsages were presented to the ladies.

Members of the Himes orchestra included the following persons from Brea: Mary Ann Jones and Marie Tremaine, playing alto saxophone; Lois Ward, trumpet; Lorraine White, piano; Genevieve Cormely, vocalist; Curtis Wade, clarinet; Frank Davison and Keith Carpenter, trombones; Ted Raubinger, drums; Albert Warner, bass; and Robert Bickel, manager. Others in the orchestra included Joseph Bills of La Habra, tenor saxophone; and Richard Hall of Fullerton, trumpet.

Congratulations--

Elva May has given Brea an enterprise of which the city may be proud.

Soden Refrigeration Specialties Co.
623 So. Los Angeles Street, Anaheim

New league standings are:

	Won	Lost
Union Oil	54	39
Jacobsen Jewelers	52	40
Shaffer Blues	52	40
Tom's Cafe	47	45
Chiksan Company	46	46
Shaffer Golds	45	47
McGraw Foundry	42	50
Chiksan Commandos	39	62

Do you think the Pacific is going to be an easy war? This and THINK! . . . Japan is NOT YET at its full strength. 4 million are under arms. 4 million more are available. REMEMBER . . . Japanese armament of men is 200,000 a day. More than are being eliminated right now!

Announcing the Opening--- Monday Evening, March 5

AT 6 P. M.

of Brea's Newest Enterprise

The Floral Dining Room and Elva May's Floral Gift Shop

OPEN FOR INSPECTION ONLY

SUNDAY, MARCH 4

We have made every effort to make our opening a success—a success for you. For we want you to feel at home here and to enjoy both eating in the Dining Room and shopping in the Floral Gift Shop. Come and convince yourself that Brea really has something new.

ELVA MAY'S
FLORAL GIFT SHOP
103 South Pomona Avenue

FLORAL
DINING ROOM
101 South Pomona Avenue

FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING

Telephone 7-J

Night Phone 9-M

PRICES (except on SUNDAY THROUGH SATURDAY)
Right to limit is reserved

LARGE
Breakfast Gems Br
PICTS
(20 Blue Points Per
CANTE
Fancy grade black
BAKE
For use in beverage

"GROUND T

Airway Coffee
Nob Hill Coffee

PET

Red Heart
Dog Food
Felix Cat Food

POINTS RATIONE

Red Star

(1½) Cherub
(1½) Nestles
(5) Sunnyban
(24) Cheese

Blue Star

(20) Rolle
(40) Apricots
(10) Green Beans
(30) Tomatoes

give
Keep Red Cross

