Sammie, who is small for his age, tried to carry his wounded comrade in to town but finding he was unable to do so, ran to the C. C. Crookshank residence and phoned for help. An ambulance was called and the injured boy hurried to Dr. Curtis' emergency hospital and from there to the Fullerton General hospital where he passed away at 3:00 o'clock Monday morning.

Sammie was exonerated of all blame at the coroner's inquest which was held Tuesday morning at McLaughlin and Suters mortuary in Fullerton.

Besides his parents, the little Theis boy leaves two sisters. Relatives are coming from the east to the funeral.

Front of Theater Building Collapses

Damage that has not yet been accurately estimated was done shortly after 7 o'clock last evening when the entire front of the new picture building on South Pomona avenue collapsed with a crash that was heard for blocks and which brought people running from all parts of the town.

The sidewalk in front of the building was covered with debris in some places to a depth of several feet, but by a fortunate chance no one was passing at the time although speculation was rife for a time as to whether anyone was buried under the ruins.

Following the collapse of the front it was seen that the north wall was in a somewhat weakened condition, and fear was expressed that it will have to be rebuilt. This cannot be determinded, however, until a thorough examination is made today.

The building, which is of very substantial construction, was put under way last week. It is presumed that the heavy rains of the last few days caused a slight settling of the foundation, with the resulting collapse.

Splendid progress was being made on the building, which is already under lease as a moving picture house. It is believed that should it be found not necessary to rebuild the north wall, that the accident will cause slight delay in the completion of the structure.

The night marshal erected a barricade around the building in order to safeguard pedestrians from possible injury.

A small boy was accidentally locked in the Red Lantern theater Friday night, and it was 11:15, forty-five minutes after the doors had been closed, that his cries were heard by Passersby. Bill Craig gave the boy instructions for opening the door from the inside, much to the relief of the boy.

The boy had fallen asleep during the showing of the picture and was overlooked when the theater was closed for the night.

Judy Garland Bob's Niece

Brea Theatre Manager and Actress

R. E. Yumm, proprietor of the Brea Theatre, has not only the distinction of being an old timer in the motion picture business, but he also has the good fortune of being the uncle of pretty Judy Garland, rapidly rising young star under contract with M. G. M.

A snapshot of Bob and Judy was taken a few days before final "shots" were made of "Thoroughbreds Don't Creep" which is now showing at the Brea Theatre.

Bob states that he changed the play date at Brea three times on "T - D - C -" in the hopes that Judy could attend on opening night of the picture, but shortly before the picture opened Judy was called to New York City to make a personal appearance at Loew's State Theatre for the premier of her latest picture "Everybody Sing," in which she is the star.

Bob further states that he has hopes of Judy returning from her Eastern trip to appear at the Brea Theatre when "Everybody Sing" plays there.

Judy Garland Is a Brea Visitor

Cretty and vivacious Judy Garland, well-known screen actress star, was a visitor here in Brea on Monday, with her uncle and aunt Mr + Mrs Robert Humm of the Brea theatre. Also she made a personal appearance that night at the theatre, where her picture "Everybody Sings" was showing.

It had been known for some time that the Humms were attempting to get Miss Garland to come to Brea, both to visit them and to make a personal appearance. She made a short talk before the Monday-night theatre audience and of course delighted all those present.

Miss Garland, who is fourteen years old, has appeared on stages all over America, since she was three. She was born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., but has been a resident of Los Angeles for some time.

WITNESS GONE; EX-MARSHAL IS FREED

J. E. Stone, former marshal of Brea was released from custody by Judge Cox Tuesday, on a motion of Atty. Mosley, when it was made to appear to the court that the prosecuting witness, J. M. ("Dynamite") Chauvez of Placentia, alleged bootlegger, could not be produced as a witness against Stone.

The arrest of Stone was brought about on November 30 as a result of an affidavit filed by Chauvez, alleging that Stone made him (Chauvez) pay to the marshal $100 because of an alleged sale of intoxicating liquor in Brea during the carnival.

Chauvez appeared before the district attorney, and the latter before the board of trustees in Brea and told his story.

The preliminary hearing of Stone was set originally for December 27, and later changed to December 20. The sheriff's office reported that a summons had not been served on the prosecuting witness because he could not be found.

Stone has been confined in the jail at Santa Ana since his arrest. He was discharged as city marshal several days ago. Immediately upon being released he returned to Brea, where he has a home in the eastern part of town.

STORM RESULTS IN DAMAGE AND GAIN

The big storm which started in Saturday night, had up to last night, left considerably more than three inches of rain over most sections of Southern California, and while it was worth untold dollars to ranchers and irrigatists generally, it also left a great amount of destruction in its wake.

The storm ended a drought of two months, which was becoming very serious to many ranchers. The present fall, coming easily as it did and a large percentage sinking into the soil, was ex-

BREA'S SPLENDID PLAY

NEW THEATER IS COMMODIOUS AND SPLENDIDLY EQUIPPED

Next Tuesday evening, March 7, the Red Lantern will open its massive doors to the public with its first show, and three or four hours of entertainment and music.

Late last evening, Manager L. A. Schlossinger, lessee of the new playhouse, made this announcement to the STAR.

"This most complete and novel theater in Southern California is a model of comfort and attractive-ness.

The Red Lantern was built under the supervision of Joffiles and Schaefer, architects of Los Angeles. T. H. Fowler of Santa Ana was the contractor while his son has been in personal charge of the work.

Interior painting and decorating was done by E. O. Roth of Los Angeles and the remark is often made that the decorations equal any in Southern California.

Draperies and scenery are the work of the Fine Scene Co. of Los Angeles and New York City, the experts being furnished and laid by Barker Bros. of Los Angeles.

Mr. Schlossinger announces that Beth Hoffman has been secured as projection engineer and Jos. Vollmer will have charge of the stage.

both men being members of the Orange County Union of Stage workers and moving picture operators.

Two Powers No. 4 moving picture machines have been installed, giving a continuous showing of the pictures with no breaks. Miss Marguerite Thomas will preside at the big Robert Morden pipe organ, which promises much in the musical part of the program for theatergoers.

Many offers have been made by exchanges in an effort to put on the first show at the Red Lantern and there has been a good deal of speculation as to what would be the opening show. Bebe Daniels, having become fairly well acquainted with Orange County, this county having adopted her as the county seat for a time in the state for the opening of the Game Chicken.

The first show will start promptly at 7 o'clock. Preceding the show the Brea Municipal Band will give a public concert in front of the theater, starting half an hour before opening time.

The opening of this magnificent showhouse marks a new era for Brea. It was built with local capital, backed by Brea citizens and will become another factor in the upbuilding of Brea.

MEETING TO HEAR COMMITTEE REPORTS

Forming of a permanent organization, the purpose of which will be to stimulate the interest of the people of Brea in municipal affairs will be the object of the mass meeting to be held in Sewall hall Monday night. The meeting will be called to order at 8:30, in order that all business may be completed early in the evening and not interfere with the preview at the new show house at 8 o'clock.

A committee to prepare constitution and by-laws for the organization was appointed last Monday night, and a report will be given at this meeting. The following are chairmen of committees for candidates recommendation for candidates will also report: W. H. Swain, precinct 1; John Sexton, precinct 2, and C. R. Merrifield, precinct 3. City officers whom terms expire this year are Mrs. L. A. Saxon, city clerk and recorder; P. C. Huddleston, F. J. Schwetzer and P. A. Blanchard, trustees.

3000 BARRELS WEEK ADDED AT H. B.

Three thousand barrels of production was the record set by Huntington Beach during past week. The Standard Company developed 2500 barrels of this production in five days. On the Huntington A tract Standard completed No. 712787 and brought in an 800 feet flowing well. Huntington finished at 2650 started off giving 400 barrels. On the E. 41st, No. 4, at 2380 feet can do about 100 barrels. Fourth well, and a big one, brought in on the famous I property. Boln No. 5, drilled 2820 feet started off at 400 barrels, later settling down to 800.

Much has been expected the Eddytonne's deep test, Huff No. 1. Drilled to 4418, well at times looked like it could do big things for deep production on the north side of Huntington Beach. The Huff was now on the pump and is about 125 barrels.

Another important development last Monday when control of the properties, holdings of the Fidelity Oil Corporation passed to the Petroleum Corporation. The second small company absorbed in the ever growing Mile organization. Mile, the property adjoining the city and will be in position to develop the new field with same speed and efficiency as the other wells.

The Petroleum Midway's record breaking high gravity Vollmer-Meyer No. 1, can to break records. A well this well forged ahead of Standard's B-2 by producing 20.1 gravity oil. The oil

Gives Talk On Child Training

On the subject of "The Old and New in Child Training and the P. T. A. as a Factor in Child Training" Prof. J. A. Cranston, superintendent of Santa Ana schools, addressed the regular meeting of the Brea Parent-Teacher Association held at the school yesterday afternoon, giving many interesting comparisons. Some of the comparisons follow:

By the old A B C method the children learned everything by heart, whereas now children as young as the second graders read the newspaper because of phonic method; in arithmetic the schools now have practical problems of kitchen, household and farm, while in the old way, the teachers could not solve all the problems; in geography and history the modern method of teaching is to use stories from the primary grades up, thus developing a desire for reading on the subjects as compared with the old way of memory work. In the olden days teachers thought they were doing well by teaching students to learn by memory all of the bones in the body and the heart circulation; today physical education is required and it is thought that improvement in the children can be noted.

In regard to amusements the speaker deplored the fact that home amusements such as checkers, dominos and reading are giving way to outside amusements: at the movies, auto riding and the beaches, this not only being true of the children but of the parents as well. He stated that emphasis today is being placed on individuality, holding that it is criminal to crowd a slow child, or keep back the brighter pupils. Another criticism Mr. Cranston had to offer was that too many subjects are being taught, the pupils getting

NEW PLAYHOUSE SECOND Gusher IS DELIGHT TO MANY COMES IN AT SPRINGS

The new Red Lantern theater admitted a crowd of Brea folks and other friends of the management to a preview Monday evening. Preceding the opening number Mayor Sexton, one of the men who has given of his time and money in securing the new playhouse, made a speech in which he reviewed the advantages made in bringing a place of entertainment to Brea.

Mr. Schlessinger, lessee, was introduced, and in a happy speech he told of the plans for making the theater a high class place where the best of entertainment would at all times be shown.

Expressions of delight at the splendid appointments were made by many, and the interior decorations were a revelation to the many who had not peeped in while the work was going on.

The public opening last night brought out a throng which taxed the capacity of the house.

Community Sing For Ebell Club

Community singing, led by Miss Helen Wischard with Mrs. G. F. Henigan, of Brea, at the piano, was the opening feature of the Ebell Club meeting at Fullerton Friday afternoon and after the business meeting the following program was given: Instrumental trio, "Foot and Mrs. Babize, and Mrs. Henigan; and Mrs. Mrs. Joseph J. Carter, of Hollywood; song by Florence Rhodes Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. E. A. Bishop; reading by Mrs. Peter Connolly; song by Miss Ruth Howerton, Mrs. J. E. Scott; flower presentation; Babylonian Machine, high school girls.

That Santa Fe Springs is destined to become perhaps the greatest oil field in the state was the prediction of prominent oil men following the bringing in of Well No. 1 at the rate of 3000 barrels a day. The well was brought in several days ago, but the fact was kept quiet for a time.

At the same time it was learned that Well No. 1, the discovery well, has increased its flow from 1400 to 5000 barrels a day. Since coming in this well has ranked as the greatest producer in the state. Well No. 3 lies to the northeast of No. 1.

Development in the field is moving at full speed. Sixty derricks are now being constructed, and it is said that the field will bring a great flowing wells by the end of the month. These include the two Bell wells, two of the Standard which are said already to be in the producing sand, two on the Myer lease and one on the Butterworth. The General Petroleum is also said to have a well nearly ready to bring in on the road between Norwalk and Santa Fe Springs. A successful well there will prove up another square mile of territory.

WOULD STOP DISTRIBUTION

Parents Of The Area Stirred
By Lists Of 'Off Color' Words

Circulation of lists of "off color" words and definitions taken from the Dictionary of American Slang is causing concern among parents of the area and ways and means are being sought to stop their distribution and prosecute the distributors.

Neighboring communities have been plagued by the lists, but so far as could be learned this morning few, if any, have found their way into Brea.

Brea has an obscenity ordinance, but there is a question of whether or not its provisions could be applied to the distribution of the lists.

Brea Ordinance

The city ordinance reads:
"It shall be unlawful for any person to permit to be exhibited, posted or displayed
upon any advertising structure any statement, words or signs of an obscene, indecent or immoral nature, or any illustration or delineation of any human figure in such detail as to offend public modesty or decency or any lewd or lascivious act, or any other matter or thing of an obscene, indecent or immoral nature or offensive to the moral sense."

If the city councilmen believed that there was an increasing danger of the distribution of obscene matter
here and that the present ordinance was inadequate, they could at their meeting tonight
enact an emergency ordinance.

Book Restricted

Meanwhile use of the Dictionary of American Slang at the public library here and elsewhere in Orange County has been restricted to those over 21 by action of the County Board of Supervisors.

To date there has been no organized effort here to have the book banned, but condemnation appears to be growing.

At the local library it was said there was not much interest in book until reports of its contents were published.
Since then it has been examined by numerous citizens.

Supervisors Policy

Supervisor William J. Phillips has announced that the Board of Supervisors have adopted the following Policy on Reference Collection:

"The reference collections at all branches and headquarters of the Orange County Library are made up of material which is specially labeled, housed, and handled in a different manner than the books in the general collection.

"Each book is this collection bears a 'For Reference Only' label, and does not have a circulation card in the book pocket, so that everyone, librarians and patrons alike, is fully aware that each of these books is a part of this special material.

"These books generally include such things as dictionaries, encyclopedias, tables, directories, formulae, almanacs, atlases, etc., as well as recu-ments and magazines.

Reference Collection

"The decision to make any book apart of the reference collection, other than the above, mentioned standard reference tools, will depend on or out of - print; some may be extremely valuable historically; others may contain

Brea Theater
Reopens With Films In Fall

Norman Goodlin, operator of the Orange Theater for the past 12 years, has announced the purchase of the Brea Theater Building from Lester Russell of San Clemente.

Goodlin says that remodeling of the old theater, which has not been used for shows purposes for a long time, will start at once and he expects to reopen it as a movie house in late September.

Extensive changes are planned in the auditorium, lobby and rest rooms, according to Goodlin.

Goodlin says that Fred Davis of Scottsdale, Ariz., has acquired the theater on a long term lease and he is expected to move here with his family in the near future. He says that Davis will schedule family type pictures and will have Saturday and Sunday matinees.
