City Council
City of Brea
City Hall
Brea, Calif.

Gentlemen:

Prior to the accelerated industrial, commercial and residential growth of the City of Brea, the old treatment plant, built in 1924, was not always able to maintain an effluent that prevented contamination and pollution of the surface and underground waters. However, the result could be called "more or less" satisfactory.

Since 1950 this situation has become more critical. Early in 1951 this Department made a detailed study of the industrial wastes of the down-stream conditions caused by this sewage and waste disposal operation.

From the study, completed in July 1951, it was obvious that the solution lay along two lines:

1. Immediate emergency improvements to correct the present conditions, and
2. The future solution, based upon the projected industrial and residential growth of the city.

In my letter to your Council, under date of July 18, 1951, I advised "that any land disposal can become a hazard and a nuisance on short notice and should, therefore, be considered a temporary expedient which should be replaced with a safer alternative at the earliest opportunity."

To Mr. Sweitzer, Mr. Studebaker, and other representatives of the City, I urged immediate negotiations with the present Joint Outfall Sewer participants, and, eventually, the Sanitation Districts, so the sewage and industrial wastes of the City of Brea could be handled in common with that of the other large cities in the Santa Ana River valley.

The emergency changes and additions made in the old plant and the careful personal attention given it by the maintenance personnel have given as satisfactory a result as can be expected. However, the projected growth of the City has exceeded the expectations of all of us. Consequently, the need for the long-range solution has arrived sooner than I thought. The real waste disposal future of the City of Brea lies in participation in a system in which quantity is not seriously restricted and the cost of treatment is low.

I am confident that, if the voters know the facts, there will be no doubt about the success of these propositions on December 1st.

Yours very truly,

Oil and gas fields is featuring the start of the summer season. Five new rigs are being constructed by the Chanslor-Canfield people, while several wildcat propositions are contemplated.

Oil well supply houses and manufacturers of oil well specialties report unusual activity in their respective lines. The Shaffer Tool Works of Brea and Duro Engineering company of Brea, both report that they have been working extra shifts and have been pressed to get out the work demanded of their respective firms.

Three months it now has an enrollment of 59 members and is fast becoming one of the strongest clubs in Orange county.

The club has met in the chamber of commerce building regularly since its inception and has a definite program of work outlined, co-operating with the chamber of commerce in its work to build a bigger and better community. Last month the Brea Women's Club affiliated itself with the federated clubs of Orange county and no doubt it will within the near future become a state and national federated club.

For the closing meeting to be held on Monday the 22nd, the club has been divided into five committees. Each committee is to put on a stunt and furnish a certain portion of the luncheon which is to be spread on that day. Each member is to bring a guest. After this meeting the club will not convene again until fall, when active club work will be taken up once more.

Following is a list of the officers of the Brea Women's Club: President, Mrs. Clayton; first vice president, Mrs. Phelps; second vice president, Mrs. J. E. Rymer; secretary, Mrs. Beatrice Livingston; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hughes; treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Fanning; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. R. Hunt; curator, Mrs. Frank Schweitzer.

Much Work is Planned By Local Chamber of Commerce

MAY 9 -

With the dismissal of all department heads, and committee chairman and the adoption of a program of work for the coming year, the Board of Directors of the Brea Chamber of Commerce started off the new fiscal year of the organization with a bang.

J. D. Sievers, the new president of the Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting with a few well chosen remarks regarding the possibilities of this community and the obligation of Board of Directors to the Chamber of Commerce. "In taking the office of President of the C. of C., I am asking the whole hearted cooperation of every member of this Board and member of the organization. Results obtained by the C. of C. during the past few months are indeed gratifying and have been felt far and wide. A spirit of optimism prevails and we must continue the good work which is still within its infancy."

City planning and zoning, parks
and playgrounds, industrial development and publicity were the four planks of the program of work adopted, although many other suggestions were made and many other problems will be taken care of.

All members of the Board were present with the exception of W. E.
Fanning, who is confined to his home on account of illness. The chairman of the various department heads the standing committees and special committee will be chosen by J. D. Sievers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, within the next few days.

As has been the custom in the past all committee chairman have been relieved of their duties at the close of the past fiscal year and at the beginning of the new fiscal the reappointment or selection of new officers made.

City planning and zoning, playground, publicity and industrial development, the four major planks of the Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year, have been adopted by the board of directors of the C. of C. for serious consideration and work
the present year.

The rapidity with which this community is growing has given a crying need for zoning of business and residential development as well as industrial.

Parks and playgrounds are needed

regular bi-monthly meeting by set-the sewer bond issue. Bids for the paving of Cedar street will also be

With the date set for the sale of the bonds actual work on the con-

August 1. It is probable that no further street paving will be done until after the sewers have been laid. It has been arranged to con-

May Waive Protest With View to Speed Brea Sewer Building

Careful investigation of the proposed sewage disposal plant of the city of Brea, which will be built north of Fullerton, will be conducted by City Engineer Record and members of the Sewer committee of the city council assisted by the mayor, it was decided at a meeting of the city trustees last evening.

Mr. Record pointed out that if Fullerton is to file a protest in connection with the plan, it must be done within a few weeks time before Brea can start the work. Investigation will be conducted to determine the plans and status of the disposal plant, and it is planned, Record stated, if no objection to the project is found, to waive the right to protest and to thus speed the work of Brea in construction.

This cooperation will probably be possible, Record said, as he had looked into the matter and that the project had already been approved by the state sanitary commission. However, a thorough investigation of the plan in reference to its possible effect on Fullerton will be made before any action in regard to the protest is taken.

PERMIT FOR SEWER PLAN

New June 17

Application for a permit to install an Imhoff tank and sprinkler system of sewage disposal above the baranca north of this city has been made to the state board of health by the city of Brea. At the meeting of the Fullerton city trustees last night, the sewer committee, Mayor Harry Crooke and City Engineer W. C. Record were appointed as a special committee to inspect the plans.

This committee will go over the plans and decide whether or not this city will demand a hearing before the state board of health before the permit is granted. If the committee decides that the sanitation of Fullerton will not be affected by the plant rights to a hearing will be waived it was said.

Ted Corcoran presented the plans for the new bandstand to be erected in the city park on West Commonwealth and informed the city trustees that Ben Carey, Fullerton contractor had agreed to donate the labor necessary for its construction. The recently appointed band committee was instructed to continue to assist the organization in the erection of the shell.

The report of William Gillette on the recent meeting of the Boulder Dam association at Ontario was read and accepted. Permission to close Chapman avenue between Pomona and Harvard between the hours of 5:30 and 8 p. m. next Friday night during the commencement exercises on the high school campus was granted.

The library report for the fiscal year and a tentative budget for next year for operation of the library were presented and ordered filed.

At a special meeting of the city council of Brea held last evening, the $60,000 issue of bonds for sewers, voted some months ago, was disposed of and preparations for the new sewage collection and disposal system were advanced one notch further.

Six bids were received and the First Securities Company of Los Angeles with a premium bid of $2914 secured the bonds which carry a 5 per cent rate of interest. Blyth-Witter & Company were next highest bidders also offering a premium of $2589. The First Securities offer was accompanied by a check of $3200, as a deposit to guarantee the offer.

Application was also made the city council to the State Board of Health for permission to construct a disposal plant and collection system. It is expected that no complication will arise as the city engineer and city attorney have complied with all requirements.

The paving contract for West Cedar street, which will add approximately three quarters of a mile of pavement to the paved streets has been let, the Griffith Company receiving the contract. The price on this was approximately 22.7 cents per square foot. The mere, and seemingly innocent act of offering a friend a drink of "something good" proved a boomer- ang to E. L. Goolidge, local druggist and recent purchaser of the Nasair interests in the Brea Pharmacy, when he was hauled, this P. M. before City Judge C. C. Kinsler and assessed a fine of $150 and suffered the loss of a case of Gordon Dry Gin.

According to Goolidge and a verification of the statement by Dan Shaner, local police officer, the druggist thought to reciprocate for courtesies extended by Shaner and offered the officer a drink of some real stuff. Shaner took exception to the proffer and swore to a complaint against the druggist, causing an in- vestigation to be made which dis- closed the case of excess imbeciles carried in violation of the prohibi- tion act. Goolidge pleaded guilty to the charge proffered.

The odd and unusual act on the part of the police in this instance is pointed out as a violation of Sec- ond alleged statements to the effect that the local police force had pledged assistance to the law enforce- ment section of the Ku Klux Klan in their fight against violators of the 13th amendment. Deputy Sheriff Chapin and Rev. E. J. Sechrist, self- identified Klansmen, were quite active in assisting the city officers in the arrest.

State Parade

A big parade was formed when the returns were made about 9:30 o'clock last night and to an accompaniment of tinling cowbells, horns and nooted the rounds of the town, making the welkin ring in joyous celebra- tion of the victory. Sirens from the various plants in the district joined in and helped to swell the raucous din.

The celebration wound up with a weiner roast at the Boy Scout building.

If the average were to give you an orange, would simply say: "Have an orange."

If a lawyer were going to hand you the same orange he would hold the ripe, juicy fruit up before your eyes until your mouth got watery. Then, he would stick it behind his back and say: "I hereby bequest, give and convey unto you all rights, titles and claims to said orange, together with the rind, the pulp, the pips, the seed, the juice, the skin and all other parts thereto, with full power to suck, to chew, to eat and otherwise dispose of, and, then, he would hand you a lemon!"

YORBA SHOWING MAY GIVE NEW FIELD OIL-BEARING

THE WORK IN EASTERN OIL FIELD POINTS TO SUCCESS OF WELLS BELONGING TO MANY COM-INDICATIONS OF MORE GOOD WELLS IN NEW GTS

Yorba Well No. 1 shaft drive rotary can be secured. Well No. 67 is drilling in the oil sand at 2800 feet and is beginning to look like an oil well. No. 73 is standing with the cement setting at 1750 feet.

With the cementing of Graham-Loftis No. 52, the last well drilling on the property, no tools are now operating. The Union started drilling eight years ago and for a number of years not less than five strings of tools have been drilling. The completion of the well now standing cemented will probably close the drilling program for the Graham-Loftis. The production of the property runs about 2000 barrels a day.

On the Yorba tract the Amalgamated Oil Company has made a location for Yorba No. 2. The Potter

The Petroleum Development Company's Bradford Bros. No. 1, which came in a couple of weeks ago at 300 barrels, is showing some decline in production, and is not holding up to expectations. The Bradford community well is standing with the cement setting at 3500 feet. Bradford No. 1 is also standing cemented, the depth being 2431. Bradford No. 2 is drilling in a hard sand at 1750 feet.

The Petroleum Midway is enjoying a large share of the good luck in drilling in the Richfield district on the Yarnell. No. 1 is making hole in a sandy shale at 3350 feet. No. 4 is drilling in the conglomerate at 1875. No. 5 in the conglomerate shows 1450 feet of hole. No. 6 is drilling at close to 2000 feet in the hard conglomerate. A rig is up for No. 7 and Nos. 9 and 10 are new locations. No. 8 started drilling a few days ago and now shows 500 feet.

The Standard Oil Company's Lock No. 2, a deep well completed at 4006 feet, started off pumping water. The oil is expected to start as soon as the excess water is pumped off. On the Kramer No. 1 property, adjoining No. 4 is drilling at 2440, No. 6 is drilling a 2700 feet, and No. 7, a new well, is grading for rig site.

CITY DEMONSTRATION OF SEPTIC TANK

At the regular meeting of the Brea Board of Trustees last week in the City Hall a proposition was presented by Oliver M. Thornton for an inventor Geo. P. Purviance of Artesia. Mr. Purviance wishes to demonstrate his septic tank which is used in lieu of cesspools. Mr. Thornton was given permission to install the invention on Brea property. If the point of sanitation and usefulness is proven this will be of great benefit to property owners.

FARMERS ASKED TO HELP WITH ROADS

T. B. Talbert, chairman of the Orange County Board of Supervisors, has issued an appeal to farmers of Orange county to cooperate more fully with county authorities in the care of county roads.

He protests against the plowing into road work and suggests that after a rain farmers whose properties lie next to a dirt road use a drag on the road.

Talbert's statement follows: "There is being displayed throughout the county a great deal of carelessness about plowing into and plowing down the county roads. Many of these roads have been very expensive to build, the dirt and gravel having been freighted many miles and handled several times by hand shovels. "I fear some of the neighbors have become thoughtless about who has the taxes to pay to put
