THE GREAT EXPERIMENT

(By Franklin K. Lane)

There is no such thing as Americanism unless Americanism is in our soul. We have got to feel it first, and then we have got to put it out among other people.

American is an inspiration. American is a spirit. It is the constant and continuous searching of the human heart for the thing that is better.

Our wars have been fought by men of foreign birth. We see their names every day in the list of those who are dead on the battlefields of France.

There is no such thing as an American race, except the Indians. We are fashioned out a new people. We are doing the unprecedented thing in saying that Slav, Teuton, Celt, and other races that make up the civilized world are capable of being blended here, and we say this upon the theory that blood alone does not control the destiny of men.

FOR SYRIAN RELIEF

The remotest place on the continent in these stirring days is not too secluded to feel the world-thrill, and to have a part in the great movements that are making the world a better place to live in, and alleviating its suffering, said F. S. Palmiter of Orange recently. Mr. Palmiter has been chosen by the California State Sunday School Association and the International Sunday School Association, with headquarters in Chicago, as the leader of a campaign looking toward a Continent-Wide Sunday School Visitation Day, December first, when every Sunday School in North America will be visited by a representative of the organized Sunday School Movement, in behalf of the suffering thousands in Bible lands.

"Christian North America" said Mr. Palmiter "is being called on at this time to pour out its money for Liberty Bonds and for War Service activities. They have been massacred and deported. Men have been separated from their families and ruthlessly murdered. Attractive women and girls have been sold as slaves or taken by the Turks. The rest of the women and the children have been driven into the mountains and the desert and the path over which these refugees have gone is strewn with the dead. In the past two years over One Million have died from massacre, deportation, exposure and disease. But the dead no longer challenge us; it is those who live and can yet be saved.

"The ravages of war the past year have added to the horror. The Turkish armies have destroyed everything in their wake. Four million people destitute of home, clothed only in rags, are facing the cold of winter and starvation. One Million of these can be reached by relief agencies. Four Hundred Thousand of them are orphans. The relief agencies can do nothing unless North America furnishes the money.

Local Medal For Service Men

A round bronze medal, with inscription and design of Orange County, has been selected as the souvenir by the high appreciation of the Orange County will be etched in the minds of the Orange County men and that took up the battle in the World War. A decision was made by a committee of service men from the Orange County Service Men's Association as ratified by the executive committee of the Orange County Service Recognition Association at a meeting held at the Laguna Beach. The service committee consisted of Capt. C. D. Swanner of Santa Ana and L. W. Blodgett of Laguna Beach and Sergeants J. Reinhaus and George of Santa Ana. The medal will be presented in a rush case. An order for less, should it be determined that this number will not be required. Names of men in the are being gathered as rapidly as possible, in order to determine how many souvenirs should be secured. As a means of determining how many will be in attendance at the "Home Welcome" on September 9 at Orange County Park, papers of the day have been requested to men or their relatives. Service coupons which service or their relatives may forward to Chas. D. Swanner, in the First & Merchants Bank building, Santa Ana.

SCHOOL BOARD

HOLDS MEETING

The Brea School Board held a meeting Tuesday evening.

Angelenos, with J. L. Spangler of Pennsylvania and E. P. Marsh of Washington, members of the President's Mediation Commission. Capt. Charles T. Connell, Federal labor mediator for this district, participated.

The object of the conferences, which will continue several days and be resumed later in San Francisco, when the agreements reached will be submitted to the oil operators of the state, is to arrange a new scale of wages for the workers and a tentative program for changed working conditions as demanded by the wage earners.

H. L. Kerwin, assistant to Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, who is ex-officio, chairman of the President's Mediation Commission will preside over the conferences to be held hereafter.

The negotiations, it is hoped, will result in a permanent adjustment of the differences which have existed for two years or more between the workers and the operators. Awards made to the wage earners during the war proved unsatisfactory to both sides. The present series of conferences will be behind closed doors and no information will be given to the public as to the exact demands of the workers until after they have been submitted to the operators.

P. T. A. PICTURE SHOW TO HAVE COMEDY BILL

The Brea Parent-Teacher Association has planned a comedy night for Friday night, July 18. There will be seven reels of good comedy, with many laughs guaranteed with every reel. Bryan Brothers, the old and well-known acrobatic comedians in "Eight Bells" and Fay Tincher in Main 1-2-3" will be the features of the evening.

The association takes great pleasure in announcing this bill, because of the fact that it is to be shown at the regular admission price.

The following week Charlie Chaplin will be featured.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS PICNIC

A happy crowd of the young people of the Brea Congregational church picniced at Orange County Park Tuesday. They were taken to the scene of action in the big truck of P. C. Huddleston. Many games, fishing and rowing were enjoyed but the big feature of the day was the delicious lunch that was served in regular picnic fashion.

CLUB MEETS FOR ENJOYABLE AFTERNOON

The people of Olinda, however, with the exception of a few families in the western part of the district, are opposed to such a scheme. Their school is in comfortable and substantial quarters and well equipped, with seven teachers and domestic science, manual training and kindergarten departments. Being well satisfied with things as they are, they see no reason why they should make a change.

The dissatisfaction of the people on the western edge of Olinda was expressed two years ago. At that time it was proposed to extend the Brea district to a line cutting the West Coast and Columbia leases, thus taking a large slice of territory from Olinda. This was met with strong opposition in Olinda.

However, it is the opinion of those familiar with the situation in Olinda that there would be little opposition, if any, to the extension of the Brea district as far as the west line of the West Coast lease.

It is possible that there is a little misunderstanding here among those who are discussing the proposition, concerning the attitude of the Olinda district as a whole, and while the building of a new schoolhouse looks like a very good enterprise, the consolidation of the two districts would meet with opposition in Olinda.

P. T. A. HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

The Brea P. T. A. held a most interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon at the school house. A dainty luncheon was served at noon which was followed by a pleasant social hour.

The speaker of the day was Mr. Grant Stewart, Assistant Probation Officer of Los Angeles. He spoke of the parent's responsibility and the child delinquency.

Mr. Stewart was followed by Mr. Woodruff and Miss Dean of Fullerton, who both gave most interesting talks.

At the next meeting of the Association, on August 19, Mr. Woodruff will speak again.

TELEPHONE GIRLS WILL GIVE DANCE

The telephone girls of Orange County will entertain Monday evening, July 21, with a dance in the Sewell Hall. The public is invited to be present and join in with the good time.

PURCHASES NEW HOME

L. Conover, an employe of the Union Oil Company, recently purchased the home of Mrs. H. Gates family having a large circle of friends who will sympathize with them in their affliction. Mrs. Baker will recover from her injuries, but she is prostrated with grief over the death of her child.

DR. W. W. DAVIS RETURNS FROM FRANCE

A delightful dinner and family reunion was enjoyed at the Davis home Monday evening. The affair was given as a welcome-home to Dr. W. W. Davis, who returned on that day from service in France.

Dr. Davis enlisted a year ago and after a short period of training at Camp Lewis, was sent overseas where he took up his duties in a Base Hospital. After the Armistice was signed he was sent to a General Hospital in Germany and later into Southern France and Italy. He sailed for home from Brest, France. The doctor will take up his practice in this city again.

BREA TO HAVE MOVING PICTURES

The Sewell Hall, Brea, has been engaged for a moving picture show on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Through the arrangement Brea is to be included in a circuit of several towns including Los Angeles, and feature pictures will be obtained for first run outside of Los Angeles.

Manager L. C. Cox states: "We plan to give the people of this vicinity feature pictures at home. Our booking arrangements give us an opportunity to give this city the best pictures at popular prices."

ON UP GRADE

Mr. and Mrs. James Pickering and Miss Balcom of the Stearns lease motored to Balboa Beach Sunday. Mr. Pickering is on the road to recovery after his recent illness, but it will be about two months before he will be able to return to work.

LITTLE BOY VERY ILL

The family of John Brownfield of Brea Canyon has been quarantined for the past week with the scarlet fever. The little boy, Ross, is suffering from the malady. It is understood that he is in rather a critical condition now.

ASSISTANCE ASKED FOR REHABILITATING FRANCE

J. C. Sexton has charge of the campaign in Brea for funds for devastated France which has been under way this week. The quota for the United States is two million dollars, so the allotment for Brea is comparatively small, but everyone is requested to do his share in assisting the city over the top once again. The drive will last the remainder of this week and for further particulars see Mr. Sexton at the La Habra Valley Bank of Brea.

Purchase of the company's lines would be permissible. A county-wide system under control of the county, is possible, by purchase of the present system.

Woodrough was shown volume after volume of figures giving the valuations and operating costs of the system now operating. They were too stupendous for him to get at details as to valuations and costs in the limited time he was in San Francisco. In a general way, it is believed the value of the physical properties of the Pacific is over one million dollars.

In the opinion of Woodrough the only solution to the phone situation now obtaining in this and other counties of Southern California is the voting of bonds for the purchase of the established equipment and this will be the recommendation of the committee to the Associated Chambers of Commerce at its meeting on April 30.

City's 'Big' Building Hit By Fire In 1913

BREA—Fire destroyed this city's first "big" commercial building in 1913.

The Sewell Building was a one-story frame structure with a 100-foot frontage on the west side of Pomona Boulevard (now Brea Boulevard).

The building was occupied by several tenants, among which was the Enoch & Cowden Pool Room. A church group would clean up the pool room on Sunday mornings and hold services there.

The building was rebuilt in 1914 and still stands today occupied by the post office and several businesses.

Lucille Dwinell, secretary to the superintendent of the North Orange County Junior College District, watched the men in town battle the blaze. She stood by her mother's side on the front porch of their home as bright flames licked at the sky.

"I was only a child but I'll never forget my father bringing a fire fighter to my mother for her to remove a burning splinter from his arm. The heat had caused the wood to explode and a huge splinter was imbedded in the man's arm.

"My father helped squelch the flames and my mother removed the still hot splinter from the man's arm and dressed his burns," said Mrs. Dwinell who was then Miss Bush.

South of the bank building was one of the first business blocks to be erected in Brea. It was called the Sewell Bldg. and was a one story frame with a 100 foot frontage, on the west side of South Pomona Ave. It was completely destroyed by fire in 1913. The occupants of the building at the time of the fire were Russell's Jewelry Store, Brea Restuarant, Enoch & Cowden Pool Room, Matt Smith's Barber Shop, and W.E. Richardson's Picture Show. There was a church group who would clean up the pool room on Sunday mornings and would hold their Sunday morning services there. In this building's place the present two story brick Sewell Bldg. was erected with stores on the ground floor and offices and an auditorium on the upper floor. Dr. C.C. Jarvis in 1915 opened a dentist office on the upper floor. In 1914, the MacClatchie Hardware Co. opened a store on the ground floor of the Sewell Bldg. and with the help of his two sons, Warren and Will and his two daughters Una and Ina, Mr. McClatchie did a prosperous business.

SEWELL BLOCK'S NARROW ESCAPE

SMOLDERING FIRE DISCOVERED
IN NICK KOF TIME—WHEELER
PETTIGREW'S PLACE

The clang of the fire bell awakened the people from sleep at the early hour of 5:30 Thursday morning. The clang of Sewell Auditorium, and the fire bell were the sounds of boyish voices excitedly calling "fire." Pomona avenue in the business center was soon filled with anxious property owners and the curious who always run to a fire. Smoke was proceeding in considerable volumes from the entrance. Mingled with the clanging peals of the bell could be seen through all of the windows.

J. E. Russell and wife, who live in the back of their jewelry store under the auditorium, were awakened about 5 o'clock by a strange crackling sound directly over their bed. The sound seemed to come from the ceiling. Mrs. Russell exclaimed to her husband, "It must be a fire."

Mr. Russell climbed the back stairs and saw a blaze proceeding from the floor in the center of the hall, which was rapidly spreading. Using his skeleton key Mr. Russell succeeded in opening the back door, and bringing buckets of water held the flames in check. He had forgotten about the fire hose in the front hall.

In the meantime the Russell boys rang the fire bell, then entered the building from the front. Don Russell pulled the tube of fire extinguisher from the wall and scattered the powder into the blaze. Assistance now began to arrive and a goodly stream of water from the fire hose in the hall soon put out the blaze.

The damage was not great. A hole about six feet square was burned in the floor of the hall. There was a meeting in the hall Wednesday evening, and it is believed the fire started from a cigar or cigarette thrown into one of the cuspidors filled with sawdust.

If it had not been for the fortunate circumstance that Mr. and Mrs. Russell lived in the back of their store the entire block probably would have been destroyed by the fire.

GENERAL NEWS FROM TOWNS IN ORANGE COUNTY

REBEKAH LODGE NAMES OFFICERS

BREA, Dec. 15.—Election of officers for the term beginning with the new year was effected by Trinity Rebekah Lodge at its regular meeting in Craig's hall Monday night. Officers elected were:

Noble grand, Grace Stogdill, La Habra; vice grand, Barbara Neer, La Habra; recording secretary, Stella Keene, Brea; financial secretary, Margaret Lackey, Brea; treasurer, Minnie Epila, Brea; trustee for the period of eighteen months, Guy W. McIntyre, Brea.

Appointive officers will be named at a later meeting of the lodge in the offices of chaplain, warden, conductor and right and left supports to both noble grand and vice grand.

Following the business session of Monday night, each member present filled her arms with regular books, papers and other lodge property and moved to the new home in Sewell hall where lockers were in readiness to receive it.

The next meeting, the night of Monday, January 10, will, therefore, be held in the new home which by that time will be in complete readiness, with carpets down, curtains and draperies hung and furniture arranged.

Brea News

BREA, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Winifred Guley, assisted on the election board of the city hall Tuesday, taking the place of Mrs. C. C. Jarvis, who is at present in Victorville with her son, Bert Phlegley, who is reported ill again.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wilson, long residents of Brea canyon, until their recent removal to Long Beach, were in Brea early this week looking after property interests and making repairs to their houses on South Pomona following damages done by the storm last week.

Mrs. Fannia Chambers and her sister, Mrs. Reynolds, both former residents of Brea, motored over Tuesday from their home in Long Beach and spent the day looking after business interests and greeting many old friends.

W. D. Withrow, employed by the Union Oil company on the Stearns lease, has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with a severe attack of lumbago, his condition at present not being improved.

Mrs. L. A. Saylor is assisting in the Smart Shoppe of Mrs. Rosalie Williams during the holiday season, taking the place of Miss Katherine Banks, who has long been associated with the store, before its sale by Miss Evelyn Rankin several months ago.

Mrs. Cliff White, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Walker, came over Tuesday from her new home in Long Beach to attend to the renting of their home on South Madrona. The White family recently moved to the beach city following what was virtually a promotion of Mr. White as foreman of the local shops of the Shell Oil company to the same position with the company in Long Beach.

Annual Yule Party Slated by Rebekahs

BREA, Dec. 15.—Monday night, December 20, is the date chosen by Rebekah lodge of Brea on which to celebrate with their annual Christmas tree and party, the event to take place in the banquet room of Sewell hall. Gifts for both old and young have been provided as well as a generous supply of toothsome goodies that will appeal to all. A musical program is being arranged and games will be played. Odd Fellows and their families have been asked to join with the Rebekahs in the merry-making, and a large crowd is anticipated.

SUFFERS CRUSHED HAND

BREA, Dec. 15.—Lee Tannar an employe in the local oil fields, residing in Fullerton, had the misfortune to have his right hand badly crushed while at his work early this week, and will be forced to be off duty for some time. Both Mr. and Mrs. Tannar have many friends in Brea, Mrs. Tannar being a past worthy matron of the Ami Tai chapter of the Order of Eastern Star of which many Brea folks are members.

OBSERVE TWO BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARIES SUNDAY

BREA, Dec. 15.—Two birthday anniversaries were observed Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Bird, at Huntington Beach, that of the host and of Margie Hunter. Several of the Bird clan gathered at the home for the occasion where a bountiful dinner was enjoyed. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hunter and family, of Brea; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bird, Mrs. Martha Bird, their mother, Mrs. Laura Scott and family and the Misses Neva and Mable Henderson, all of Ollinda.

INFANT DAUGHTER DIES

BREA, Dec. 15.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sadler have received the sad news here of the death of their infant daughter, born to them on December 1 at their home in Wilmar. The Sadler family formerly lived in Brea, where Mr. Sadler was a painter, and they have many friends here who deeply sympathize with them in their sorrow.

THREE WIN PRIZES

BREA, Dec. 15.—Winners in the merchants' distribution of prizes Saturday night were Frank Ford, of Ollinda; Hubert Delany and Roy Anderson named merchandise orders in the game, both of Brea, receiving in the amount of $25, $15 and $10. The prize giving is to be continued for two more weeks, falling on December 18 and 25.

LODGE CENTER HALL IS READY

BREA, Dec. 15.—Carpenters and painters have practically completed work on the remodeling of Sewell hall, the new fraternal center for Brea's lodges. There remains the connecting of the huge range, the cleaning of the floors and windows, the hanging of curtains and draperies, part of the upholstering of the benches and chairs and the arranging of the furniture and equipment.

Following this, Brea will have a social and fraternal hall of which it may well be proud and which is sure to foster renewed interest in lodge affairs.

Already each fraternal organization represented in Brea is planning for the house warmings to which its friends are to be invited, all of which promise to be interesting affairs. A joint installation of officers has been planned by the Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodges for January, the date has not yet been named.

TO REMODEL HOUSE

BREA, Dec. 15.—Changing their minds in regard to the building of a new home on the site of their old, at the corner of Date and Madrona streets, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hunter will shortly begin the remodeling of the old house to which they will also add four new rooms. When completed, the home will have three bedrooms, living room, kitchen, dining room, screen porch, and bath, with a large sunny porch on the south. The work is under the direction of Mrs. Hunter's father, G. W. Bird.

RECOVERS FROM BURNS

BREA, Dec. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Guy Loney, of Bellflower, were dinner guests Monday night of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Epila and enjoyed attending lodge in Brea later in the evening. Loney is rapidly recovering from recent severe burns sustained in a gas explosion near Huntington Beach and it is thought he will soon be able to resume his work in the oilfields.

MOVES BUSINESS PLACE

BREA, Dec. 15.—James H. Russell, well known resident of Brea, where for the past several years he has intermittently conducted a jewelry and watch repair store, has moved into the MacClatchie building on South Pomona, formerly occupied by the Taylor confectionery and cigar store. There Russell will put in a small Christmas stock of goods in his line and will also be prepared to do all kinds of repair and watch work.

this building and for making necessary additions to the present building.

The bond election call will be issued by the board as soon as the necessary preliminaries can be completed.

No definite site has been selected as yet for the Mexican school, but the idea is to put it in the southern part of town, as near to the Mexican settlement as practicable. It is estimated that the site will cost something like $5000 and the building about $15,000.

The additions to the present building will be built on the rear, and will complete the present unit, with the exception of two rooms, which may be added later when needed. Architect Jeffrey, who drew the plans for the proposed addition, was present and explained them. It is proposed to enlarge the auditorium, which occupies the central court, by building it further back and enlarging the stage by building it out at each end.

On the west side, at the rear, there will be erected a building for manual training, domestic science and sloyd. On the east side, opposite, there will be three large class rooms. These additions will be connected by a covered corridor, and with the main building in the same way. The architecture of the additions will conform to that of the present structures. The erection of two more rooms on the west side will complete the unit.

liberal, as twice before the board has issued bonds, which were insufficient for the work needed, and in case the sum should be more than necessary the surplus can at once be turned toward the payment of the bonds.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, and many took part in the discussion. At first there was some tendency to oppose the bond issue, but after the existing situation had been explained there was practically no opposition to the plan. It was explained that the school now is crowded to its utmost capacity with an enrollment of 314, an increase of practically 50 per cent since the beginning of the present school year. With the great amount of building now going on in the town and vicinity, and the accompanying rapid increase in population, it is absolutely necessary that something be done to increase the school capacity.

The instructions as to the purchase of ground, and recommendation as to the bond issue, were in accordance with the procedure prescribed by the school laws.

At the close of the meeting a resolution was unanimously passed expressing the confidence of the meeting in the fidelity and ability of the members of the school board, it being recognized that the board is facing a task of extraordinary responsibility, and would be glad of some encouragement.

equalize the assessments on classes of property.

"I am sending my deputies with the instruction that they to play no favorites," said Sleeper. "For one party to a heavier assessment placed on property than his neighbor would be manifestly unjust, it goes out saying. As a consequence will do all in our power to be at valuations that will be fair and equitable to all concerned."

"Property owners should understand that my office has absolutely nothing to do with determining the tax rate, or with fixing the amount of money that is raised through taxation," Sleeper continued. "All we are called on to do is to make such valuation of property in the county as will be fair to all property owners, the rate of taxation being fixed by the county board of supervisors, school trustees, city trustees, trustees of the special districts."

Sleeper reiterated his recognition in view of the limited number of deputies, the public do all in our power to aid the assessors in their work.

Sleeper announced that the amount of money raised would probably be shown, and the assessments are complete. A considerable increase in the assessed valuation of property in the county, as against the valuation of 1919-20. This will be a natural and equitable increase, in view of the constant development of all sections of the county, Sleeper said.

The amount of money raised in the county general fund in 1920 was $871,299; for the special fund, $205,533.62; for the school fund, $595,964.67, and the amount realized from automobile tax, $48,129.96, as shown by the table above.

Since the last assessments were made, however, development in the county has taken an unprecedented leap forward. In all classes of industry there has been tremendous activity. The citrus and oil industries have taken a special interest, and have also practically all other activities. In view of this, persons in a position to know, are predicting that the rate of increase in assessed valuation this year, both operative and non-operative property in the county will close to 20 per cent.

ALL DAY MEETING

Promise Good Athletic Bouts

The Brea Athletic Club announces a good program of wrestling and boxing matches at Sewell hall, Brea, next Saturday evening. The feature will be a wrestling match between Champion Hemmerick, undefeated for nine years, and Joe Sibert, a coming Santa Ana wrestler. There will be a preliminary to this, three boxing bouts and a "battle royal." Ross Stone, the well known Brea boxer, is to meet George Peterkin of Orange, in one of the bouts.

WAS HIDDEN TREASURE BUT MERELY FIDO'S

A peculiar shaped cavity near the Brea school, caused by the recent rains, aroused the curiosity of the children and they started an investigation. Some one reported that a grave had been discovered. Others said it was some hidden treasure. Excitement ran high. The children started digging, and when some bones were found the suspense was terrible—all wanted to die. The crowd in-

BREA P. T. A. WILL HEAR FOUNDER

The regular meeting of the Brea P. T. A. will be held at the school Tuesday afternoon, March 2, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. C. G. Noble of Los Angeles, will be the speaker, and it will be a loss for those who fail to hear her.

Mrs. Noble is the mother of Brea P. T. A. and is very much interested in the work. She is sure to come primed with good advice and suggestions.

The nominations of officers for the coming year will be an important item of business which all should be interested in.

The officers, chairman of committees, etc., are requested to meet at the school at 1 o'clock for a business session.

BREA DAY AT ORANGE CHURCH

Sunday was Brea Day at the Christian church in Orange, but on account of the rain there were only about 23 that attended from Brea. Rev. W. E. Spicer occupied the Orange church pulpit.

B. S.
Mon,
Mar 1,
1920

Following the speaking the work of the following additional members and the following permanent organization was taken up. An executive committee was elected as follows: A. B. Yost, Brea Canyon Oil Co.; H. M. Ford, West Coast Oil Co.; J. R. Scott, Columbia Oil Co.; R. M. Pittman and F. F. Hill, Union Oil Co. The total membership is 825 persons.

Resolutions

The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, on the second day of April, 1918, at Brea, Orange County, California, a society to be composed of the oil workers of the State of California was formed, and known as Oil Men's Liberty League, with an initial subscribed membership of three hundred and twenty-five, now therefore, for the purpose of making known our spirit of loyalty and patriotism, be it resolved:

"That a copy of the articles of membership of this league, together with a copy of this resolution, be forwarded to the Hon. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America; to the Hon. H. B. Wilson, Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor of the United States of America; to the Hon. W. D. Stephens, Governor of the State of California, and to the Federal Oil Inspection Board at the City of Los Angeles, California."

Articles of Membership

The principal articles of membership are as follows:

"Know all men by these presents, that we, the undersigned, believing that there should be an organization formed for the purpose of promoting patriotism and bringing about a better understanding between employers and employees and others directly connected with the oil industry, have this second day of April, 1918, at the City of Brea, County of Orange, State of California, formed what will hereafter be known as the Oil Men's Liberty League, and we hereby pledge ourselves to encourage and promote the following principles:

"First: To pledge our loyalty, cooperation and support to the government of the United States of America for the duration of the war and such further time as the majority of the league members desire it to remain operative.

"Second: To protect the oil industry by using our best endeavor to bring about perfect unity and harmony between employers and employees and to develop said industry to the highest state of efficiency; that the United States Government shall be properly supplied during this time of extreme necessity.

"Third: To support the payment of substantial wages for all employees and to use our influence for bringing about in each district a uniform wage; to encourage the employment of experienced, competent and patriotic men in all branches of the industry; and to give our support to all matters tending to better the conditions generally for employees and the oil industry.

Membership

Membership will be extended to all those of operating companies, superintendents, foremen, and all other employees directly connected with the industry of the hundreds of people who would become residents of this place if numerous homes could be secured.

Mr. S. L. Island, secretary of the Metropolitan Loan Association, was in Brea for a short time Monday and is expected to return in a few days to make a proposition to the oil people whereby it is believed practical arrangements can be made to provide the greatly needed homes in Brea.

Mr. Howard did not go thoroughly into his proposition while here, but such remarks as he made left the belief that his plan will be acceptable and will prove successful.

There are a number of desirable residences in the city that can be secured at a reasonable price and with the organization of local parties who can pay in even as much as a hundred dollars when a loan can be secured, it is believed, which will afford the construction of a number of homes which will rent at a profitable and yet an equitable rate, or which can be sold on easy payments to persons preferring the investment to paying out rent.

Every resident with the town's good at heart should arouse an interest in his mind in this matter and be ready to take an active part in the movement when it is placed before the public.

The paramount question for Brea is homes—more homes for Brea.

BREA LIKES THEM

Murphy's Comedians showed to a packed house at Sewell Auditorium Sunday night and every one present was delighted with the performance.

The company is playing its second week at Fullerton and many of our people are attending the show nightly.

Murphy's Comedians are a company of excellent people, giving high class and strictly clean performances. They have played throughout Southern California for a number of years and always find a hearty welcome on their return engagements.

Tonight in the tent at Fullerton the Murphy Company will present "The Lighthouse by the Sea." They will close their Fullerton engagement tomorrow night with "The Peace Maker." They then go to Santa Ana for a four weeks engagement.

Tuning Up

Chairman Sexton of the sales force and Chairman Kinsler of the publicity committee, with other members of their committees, were in Santa Ana last night to attend a meeting of the committeemen appointed throughout the county for the Third Liberty Bond drive, which opens tomorrow.

Bond salesmen from Los Angeles were present and addressed the meeting on the fine points of Liberty Bond salesmanship.

The meeting was interesting and instructive and the enthusiasm shown was indicative of the spirit that will be made to put Orange county and each of her subdivisions over the top early in the game.

New Scout Troop Given Charter

Thirty uniformed Boy Scouts representing Brea Troop 1 received their charter in a ceremony before a meeting of the Brea Lions Club Thursday, March 4. Many of the boys also were awarded their tenderfoot badges.

Jim Taylor represented the North Orange County Boy Scout Council at the ceremony. The newly activated troop is sponsored by the Lions Club.

Its plans for the future include overnight hikes each month and a one-week pack trip into the High Sierras this summer.

It has been announced that the Brea city park will be the scene of a "Camporee" which will attract 600 to 800 Scouts from all over Los Angeles and Orange counties in mid-May. The boys will camp overnight and receive two days' instruction in many Scout field events.

Initiation Injuries Of Girl Not Serious

Injuries received by Brea-Olinda High School freshman, Judy Peterson, during a Girls Athletic Association initiation two weeks ago were reported by specialists to be not as serious as first believed, according to the girl's mother, Mrs. Gilbert H. Peterson, 622 S. Orange Ave.

Initial reports stated that the 14-year-old girl received a concussion, a possible neck fracture and a sprained ankle. After examination by a specialist, Mrs. Peterson said there was no sign of a concussion nor fracture.

Impressive Ceremony Held As Temple Cornerstone Set

The cornerstone of Brea's new Masonic Temple, now being erected at the corner of Imperial and sycamore, was set in place last Saturday afternoon in a most impressive and fitting ceremony conducted by the Most Worshipful Grand Master Frank Harwell, Jr., of the Grand Lodge of California.

Masonic dignitaries followed the Oranco Grotto Drum and Bugle Corps in a block long parade from the Laurel School grounds to the Temple location.

The ceremonies were fittingly opened with prayer by the Grand Chaplain Rt. Rev. Castellanos. Grand Master Harwell proceeded by having a small metal casket, sealed with a Holy Bible and historical data enclosed, placed behind the cornerstone. He then gave a brief history of cornerstones in Masonry.

Various grand officers then assisted with the ceremony of laying the cornerstone. William T. Rodger of Fullerton, inspector for district 628, acted as deputy grand master. Other grand officers present were Clark Shaw, grand lecturer, Herbert H. Huebner, grand orator, Martin G. DeHaan, grand sword bearer, and Alvin Horwege, grand tiler.

The group was called to order by Worshipful Master Norman LeRoy of the local lodge who introduced the grand master.

Address

In his address to the group, prepared especially for the occasion, Grand Orator Huebner said in part:

"Cornerstones are commonplace unless endowed with character through consecration by human act and thought.

"We are assembled for that purpose in a community carved out of orange groves and enriched by oil wells.

"Near where we stand was once the boundary of the largest or-
... in the world. There still come from the citrus and avacado trees' fruits to be packed for distant markets. But the flow of oil from your subterranean chambers has more than filled your Horn of Plenty.

"It is not surprising that the founders of this Lodge named it CITROL, a contraction of citrus and oil, in recognition of the benefits which nature offered to those who labored.

"Twenty-seven years ago and a few days more a Dispensation was issued for the organization of this Lodge, and its Charter granted October 13, 1927.

"During the span of years since then it has met in Sewell Hall, above the Safeway Store. Its membership has grown to 200, and its roster includes men of prominence in the civic affairs of Brea. It is fitting that the Brethren should build a temple of their own, erected to God from whom all blessings come.

"We are met today to lay the cornerstone of this new Temple which we pray will be the home for years to come of Citrol Lodge No. 656.

"It is a gratifying fact, and to the credit of the brethren, that this building will serve Masonry and Masonry's friends without recourse to external avenues of income. There will be no market place nor money changers for business or profession. Its lodge room and banquet hall will be shared by Citrol Lodge with affiliated organizations such as the Eastern Star, De Molay, Job's Daughters, and perhaps others.

"What a splendid Masonic family will live and grow within the walls of this Temple! The stucco walls which diverge from this corner-stone will furnish not merely protection from inclement weather and the rigors of the seasons, but a sanctum sanctorum, where the innermost thoughts and secrets of the heart may be sheltered and cultivated, where minds may become living stones for that spiritual building, that house not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens.

"Masons have long ascribed importance to the laying of the corner-stone of a building, especially an edifice intended for public benefit or the building of character.

"The first corner-stone laid by the Grand Lodge of California was that of the County Courthouse of Sacramento County, California, in September, 1854.

Grand Lodge also laid the corner-stone of the Branch Mint at San Francisco, and the State Capitol at Sacramento, the latter on May 15, 1861.

"This corner-stone before you, as all cornerstones, lies at the intersection of two walls, forming the corner of the foundation of the edifice.

"In structure, it must be square, which is a symbol of morality; and its form and contents a cube, which signifies truth. During the ceremony you have witnessed, the Deputy Grand Master verified that the stone was properly squared by applying to it a builder's square, which is symbolically the jewel of his office.

"The situation of a corner-stone is usually at the northeast corner of the building. Symbolically, we may thus locate this stone. Thus, one side faces the north, a place of darkness, and another side the east, the place of light. This suggests progress from darkness to light, from ignorance to knowledge.

"It is of a more durable stone than the remainder of the building, because it should possess a permanence beyond the decay and dust of the crumbling walls wherein it rests, when future ages shall have decreed that they may return to the Earth from which they came."

Brea Lodges Plan Fraternal Center

BREA, Oct. 23.—Another meeting of the Masonic club of Brea will be held Monday night, in the parlors of the congregational church. Committees from the different fraternal orders in Brea, who were present at the last meeting of the club, have been asked to report from their lodges at this time.

At the previous meeting, presided over by Chairman L. L. Lemmon, a motion was carried to adopt plans outlined for the remodeling of Sewell Hall, the Masons to assume the expense of this work as well as the furnishing of the hall for a fraternal center. Other lodges represented may rest from them.

A finance committee, consisting of L. L. Lemmon, chairman; Ray Stein, L. A. Hogue, George Cullen, Charles Miller and S. L. Verges, was appointed to complete details of the matter and hasten the work. It is said the hall can be made ready for use by December first.

Plans as submitted by A. A. Van Tuyle provide for a lodge room, banquet and ball room, reception rooms, modern kitchen, dressing rooms, ante-rooms, property rooms and the present stage.

Two Ordinances are Before Board

BREA, Oct. 23.—The Brea city council today had under consideration two proposed ordinances, one regarding distribution of advertising matter by concerns outside the city, and the other providing for boulevard stops and other traffic regulations.

The first call's for a license for each separate piece of advertising matter and regulates the manner of distributing same, so as to prevent an unsightly accumulation of papers in yards and streets. The ordinance is so drawn as to prohibit distribution of newspapers and periodicals to any but bonafide subscribers, unless a license is obtained.

Although the proposed measures have been laid on the table by the council since its last meeting, it is generally conceded that they will be made effective within the next month.

Simplicity

Of simple and durable construction, easy to keep clean

Reception of the proposed Brea Citrol Masonic Temple on Imperial and Sycamore, ground for which was broken Sunday afternoon. (Fullerton Tribune photo).

Speakers for the groundbreaking on the new Brea Citrol Masonic Temple took place Sunday with dignitaries present throughout the day. Seen on the speakers platform during the chicken dinner were (left to right) Glen St. Cloud, of Anaheim; Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight; Vincent Jaster, master of Citrol lodge 656; W. T. Rodger, inspector of the 628th Masonic district; George E. Cooke, president of the Temple association of Brea; and Judge Ellsworth Meyer, past grand master of Masonry in California.

Masonic Officials Break Ground for New Brea Temple

Masonic officials Sunday afternoon took part in groundbreaking ceremonies at the site of the new temple, to be built at the corner of Imperial highway and Sycamore avenue.

The first spadeful of earth was turned by Vincent E. Jaster, worshipful master of Brea Citrol lodge; and William T. Rodger, district inspector for the 628th Masonic district.

The ceremony was postponed until 1:30 awaiting the appearance of Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight, who was scheduled to take part in the ceremonies. He finally caught up with the group at the Union Oil picnic grounds, where a chicken dinner and entertainment followed the groundbreaking ceremony.

Cooke Opens

The ceremony was opened by George Cooke, president of the Temple association. He welcomed about 300 spectators to the site where "one of the most beautiful temples in Orange county will be built."

James McGarrigle, popular song leader from Long Beach, led the singing of "America" and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Following that, Rev. Joe Nation, former Brea Baptist minister, led the invocation.

Rodger gave a brief talk, emphasizing that "the structure will be a monument to Masonry, and is bound to be an influence for good in the community."

Congratulations from brother Masons in California were given by Ellsworth Meyer, a past grand master of California.

Happy Occasion

He reminded Masons that "there is no happier occasion in Masonry than when a lodge has a home of its own."

He traced the history of Masonry, and told of the great number of leaders in our country who have been members.

With the preliminary proceedings out of the way, Rodger and Jaster carried shovels to a corner of the proposed temple, and turned over the first earth amid comments by Cooke.

Knight Talks

Lt. Gov. Knight gave a 15-minute talk on the history and importance of Masonry, and appeared to enjoy the program and the fried chicken that was served to about 300 persons.

Other talks at the picnic grounds were made by Mayor Chas. McCart of Brea; Jaster; Rodger; Ted Perry, Forestate of the Long Beach Elks Shrine;

Masonic Temple Groundbreaking Historic Event

An historic event took place in Brea Sunday afternoon with the turning over of the first shovel full of earth for the new $70,000 Brea Masonic temple at Imperial and Sycamore.

The building will be a one-story frame and stucco structure with a 46 feet by 65 feet lodge room and 30 feet by 50 feet dining hall with complete kitchen facilities including the latest appliances. There will be a mezzanine lounge for members and guests with a 20 feet by 30 feet coaching room. Total floor area will be 7800 square feet.

Modern design will be followed throughout the building and it will be fully air conditioned according to Norman LeRoy, building chairman.

The building would cost an estimated $70,000 if built by a contractor, LeRoy said, but Masons are doing the work themselves.

George Cooke is chairman of the Temple association. Henry Rudd has been appointed general overseer. Walter Crockett will have charge of the cement work. Electrical work will be supervised by Frank Holly. Claude Williamson will oversee the plumbing and the Slunka brothers, John and Ed, will supervise the plastering.

Harvey Moore, as building inspector, is taking care of building fees and inspection fees. Everett Lynn Child of Fullerton is the architect for the temple. Many building materials are being donated by Masons and friends of the Brea lodge, LeRoy said.

Brea Masons to Dedicate Temple With July 20 Dinner, Ceremony

The officers and members of Citrol Lodge No. 656, Free and Accepted Masons of Brea, announce the official dedication of their new Temple on Friday evening, July 20, at 8 o'clock. The Temple is located at 500 East Imperial Highway, corner of Sycamore St.

The dedication ceremonies will not be open for the public, only Master Masons will be admitted, and by vouchment only.

The Most Worshipful Edgar V. Stewart, Jr., Grand Master of Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, State of California, will preside over the dedication ceremonies, with the participation of his Grand Lodge officers, and Worshipful William T. Rodger, Grand Lodge Inspector of the 628th Masonic District, will make the introductions.

A testimonial dinner will precede the ceremonies at 6:30 in the dining room of the new building.

Nine Years Work

The new Temple started on paper on May 27, 1947, when the Brea Masonic Temple Association was incorporated, in order to work out the construction plans, and raise the necessary funds to complete the Temple. After five years, on January 12, 1952, the building plans were approved by the same organization, and on February 23, 1952, by the Grand Lodge Finance Committee. The ground breaking ceremonies took place on April 6, 1952, and the cornerstone was laid on March 6, 1954, by Frank Harwell, Jr., Grand Master, with participation of his Grand Lodge officers.

From this date all the exterior and interior work progressed very rapidly. Many thousand hours of labor have been donated by the members of the Lodge, which made it possible to move into the new Temple on December, 1955, when the first great event took place, namely the installation of the officers of the Lodge for the year of 1956.

The building is now regularly used by Citrol Lodge, Brea Chapter of Eastern Star, and by Brea Bethel of Job's Daughters.

Many have visited the new Temple, and commented as to its beauty, design and workmanship. It is a definite asset not only to the Masons, but to the whole community, and represents a valuation that probably never can be computed.

Because the dedication ceremonies are restricted to Master Masons only, Citrol Lodge and the Temple Association plans an open house dinner early in the fall. The public, and all friends who generously contributed to the building program will be invited and will have an opportunity to visit and inspect the Temple.

According to a release by the Brea Post Office, the new 10c Independence Hall Commemorative Stamp was placed on sale July 5.

Cornerstone Laying for $70,000 Masonic Temple Set for Saturday

12 Fighting Ships Hold Maneuvers; 3 Breans Aboard

Pacific Fleet (FHTNC) — The 13 ships of Task Force 12 gave residents of the San Francisco Bay Area an impressive and spectacular view of U. S. Naval might upon their arrival Feb. 20 for a three day stay.

On maneuvers with the fleet were Hugh C. Hall, teleman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hall of 432 Magnolia Ave., aboard the destroyer USS Gurke; Joseph A. Lorea, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Lorea of Brea, aboard the destroyer USS John A. Bole, and Doyle B. Bouse, electrician's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Bouse of 442 S. Pomona Ave., aboard the destroyer USS Leonard F. Mason.

Task Force 12, with which the three Breans sailed, conducted the largest Pacific Fleet Training Exercise since World War II. Included with the Task Force

Most Worshipful Frank Harwell, Jr., grand master of Masons of California, will be in Brea Saturday, March 6, for the cornerstone laying ceremony of the new Brea Masonic Temple.

According to local Masonic officers, this will be the first official visit of any grand master to the Brea Citrol Lodge.

The historic ceremony is scheduled to start Saturday noon with a luncheon to be served in the present lodge hall dining room. This luncheon, from 11:30 to 1 p.m. is open to the public, Norman H. LeRoy, worshipful master of Brea Citrol lodge announced.

Cornerstone Ceremony

The cornerstone laying ceremony will start at 2 p.m. at the site of the new Temple, East Imperial and Sycamore, with local Masons and grand officers marching to the location from an assembly point at Laurel School grounds.

The Oranco Grotto Drum and Bugle Corps will provide music for the occasion and the distinguished guests will conduct the colorful cornerstone laying ritual. The public is invited to attend this historic service in Brea.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new temple were held at the site in April, 1952, with Vincent E. Jaster, then worshipful master of Brea Citrol Lodge, turning the first shovelful of earth. He was followed by William T. Rodger, district inspector.

Lieutenant Governor Goodwin Knight was here for the ceremony and addressed the group at a chicken dinner served at the Union Oil picnic grounds.

Valued Near $80,000

The 7,900 square foot building, to be fully air conditioned, will have an assessed valuation of $70,000 to $80,000 dollars, LeRoy said. He added that at the present time about $40,000 to $50,000 dollars worth of material and workmanship have gone into the building with a cash outlay of about $4,000. All other work and material has been donated, resulting in slower progress in the building program.

The Temple will house a large lodge hall with mezzanine, a dining room with a modern kitchen, recreation hall and two sets of rest rooms. The outside walls will be finished in a peach-tan stucco and modern style architecture will be used for trim finish. The entrance will be on Sycamore Avenue. The building will have no indebtedness when completed, LeRoy stated. Everett Lynn Childs of Fullerton is the architect.

Congratulations

Phil Campbell, president of the Masonic Temple Association, George Cooke, former president, and a host of other Masons are to be congratulated for the successful methods used to make possible this Temple for Brea.

At the groundbreaking ceremonies William Rodger said, "The structure will be a monument to Masonry and is bound to be an influence for good in the community."

Lions Hear Varied Activities Reports From Members

LUNCHEON HELD AT CHURCH DUE TO FIRE IN USUAL MEETING PLACE

The Brea Lions Club met Thursday in the annex of the Christian Church due to the damage to the usual quarters caused by Wednesday's fire in the Sewell building. President Ralph Barnes spoke of the fishing trip scheduled for next Sunday and got some dozen promises to attend. He asked for a report on the installation services and program put on by the Orange County Council, from Jack Phillips, for a report from Louis Pappillo on the Plunge party last Thursday evening and for a report from Frank Wharton of the program put on by the Brea Den at Belvedere Gardens.

Doc. Dave Goodwin was program chairman and stated that no one needed any introduction to the speaker—Bill Shafer.

Bill started off by quoting poetry to the effect that it would be nice if people who went abroad stayed abroad, meaning presumably that people did not want to hear about trips. This of course did not hold true in this instance.

Bill said they left here and went straight to Houston, stopping over a day at Dallas. Houston, he said, was about the liveliest and least depressed city he saw on the trip, which lasted seven weeks and covered 9,000 miles. Bill had a piece of rock which he said was from the oldest geological formation in the United States, near Tulsa, Oklahoma. The oil sands near there are 4,000 to 6,000 feet below the sur-

Sewell Building Is Threatened by Fire In Dr. Jarvis' Office

A fire of unknown origin broke out Wednesday about 5:30 P. M. in the office rooms occupied by Dr. C. C. Jarvis in the Sewell building on So. Pomona Ave. An alarm was sent in by Mrs. H. H. Le Gro for the fire department. The flames had gotten a good start when the equipment arrived but were kept from spreading to the other rooms in the building as soon as the hoses were connected. The other upstairs rooms in the building were considerably damaged by smoke and water and some water came through the ceilings to Le Gro's Drug Store and the Hubbard Hardware store below. The damage to the equipment in Dr. Jarvis' office was chiefly confined to one room. One dental chair an x-ray machine and other dental fixtures and supplies were completely damaged. Dr. Jarvis estimates his loss roughly at $2500. He carried some insurance.

* * * * * MRS. R. M. FLEISHER ASKS THOSE DESIRING R. F. C. TREES TO SIGN

Mrs. R. M. Fleischer, chairman of the tree planting committee appointed by the city council is again pleading that all property owners who wish trees under the R.F.C. plan laid out a few weeks ago and who have not signified their wishes by signing at the City Hall for the trees do so before the first of the week.

The trees will be planted by funds provided from the R.F.C. and all that is asked of the property owners is that they agree to care for the trees once they are planted.

To date not enough signatures have come in to justify the city carrying through the plan. Unless more interest is shown at once the project will have to be dropped.

A crowd soon gathered at the scene of the fire. Traffic on Pomona Ave. was directed around Ash and Birch streets to Orange Ave. during the time the equipment was in use.

MAYOR AND FAMILY VACATIONING AT BRYCE CANYON

Mayor and Mrs. L. A. Hogue and son, Kenneth left last Friday morning for a two weeks motor trip to Bryce Canyon. "Mike" expects to spend his time fishing in the streams and lakes while there. He should have some good stories when he returns for we have heard that fishing in that region is excellent.

gave but a cursory glance at the strangers, thinking they were merely vagrants.

As he started to re-enter the station, however, the two men crowded in with him before he had time to close the door. One of them produced a revolver, menacing the operator. At the same time the other went in rear of the counter and rifled the ticket and express drawers.

Securing three $10 bills and $.14 in silver, as well as a check for $2.02, made payable to "self" and signed by V. C. Barbre, station agent, the two hold-up men fled into the darkness.

The man who wielded the revolver was described to Sheriff C.
E. Jackson as between 30 and 35 years of age, about 6 feet in height and weighing about 200 pounds. He was of dark complexion, wore dark gray clothes, and a soft hat.

The other robber was described as being of about the same age as the man with the revolver, and about 5 feet, 6 or 7 inches tall, and weighing about 165 pounds. He was dressed similarly to his companion, and had about two days' growth of beard on his face.

BREA LEGION POST HAS JOLLY MEETING

Brea American Legion met Monday evening at Sewell hall enjoyed a social time feed and boxing, which were on the program.

A feature of the boxing bouts was "blindfolded boxing" by four boys from town, and it created lots of fun.

The regular routine of business was carried through with many lively discussions. Ted Craig, vice-president and chairman of the dances, having left for Texas, a new dance committee was appointed.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, March 15.

meeting.

Mrs. C. O. Noble of Los Angeles, was then introduced and told many interesting facts about the work which has been done by the National and the State P.-T. A.

She told of P.-T. A. in Los Angeles, and told of one school which has a day nursery right on the school grounds, which allows the older children to attend school and at the same time members of the family who are in their charge.
She told of the work of feeding and caring for these babies by the teachers.

She held her audience from start to finish and all were sorry when she did finish, felt they'd like to hear more.

DR. MILLER GIVES TALK TO CHILDREN

Dr. John T. Miller gave a very interesting talk to the children at the Brea school Tuesday afternoon. With blackboard and chalk he gave illustrations the smallest child could understand, showing how habits can be developed and the results of development in the formation of the head.

He congratulated the little children on their attention, even though there were some things they could scarcely grasp.

- Among some of the things told the children were:
- People—how to judge them.
  - Health—how to improve it.
  - Stubbornness—how to modify it.
  - Temper—how to control it.
  - Self-reliance—how to cultivate it.

VISITING SPEAKERS AT FRIENDS CHURCH

Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong Cox of Whittier, preached Sunday evening at the Friends church in Yorba Linda. Her subject was "Peace." Mrs. Cox is an aunt of
G. W. Milhouse of Rose Drive.
She was the guest of Mr. and Mrs.
Milhouse Saturday evening.

Miss Ruth Anna Simms of Richmond, Ind., a cousin of Mrs. G. W.
Milhouse, who is interested in the Forward Movement of the Friends church, preached at the Friends church Sunday morning.

Which has been talked of tentatively for some time, but never proposed in concrete form. If the plan in question should be adopted, it would be necessary to hold an election and form a lighting district, the funds for which would be secured by a tax levy made by the county assessor and included in the regular county tax collections.

A committee was appointed to interview officials of the Edison Company, and at the meeting it will have figures to present as regards installation and cost of service.

Several other matters of unusual importance are to come before the body, and it was decided to devote the coming meeting entirely to business, eliminating any social features.

The directors appointed a committee to see Supervisor Schu-macher and ask him to go over the roads in the Yorba Linda townsite, with a view to seeing whether some badly needed work cannot be done on these roads.

MRS. LILLARD, HEIR TO IRVINE MILLIONS, DEAD

Mrs. Francis Z. Lillard, only daughter of James Irvine, and one of the heirs to the Irvine millions, passed away yesterday afternoon at the family home on the Irvine ranch, death resulting from pneumonia, following the birth of a baby girl three days ago. Decedent was 24 years of age. The body will be shipped to San Francisco.

She was a sister of James Irvine, Jr., and Myford P. Irvine. She was married 10 months ago to Francis Z. Lillard of Los Angeles, the wedding being one of the big events in this section.

Besides owning a 108,000-acre ranch here, known as the Irvine ranch, her father is owner of the Napa railroad at San Francisco and has big property interests there.

MISS KRAUSE SENT TO JAIL FOR SPEEDING

Miss Lucile Krause, student at the University of California, was given a three-day speeding sen-land. Sentence was pronounced Saturday.

Laughing, gathering up a suit case full of clothing and an armful of books, magazines and writing materials, Miss Krause went to jail for her three-day stay.

Her father, F. C. Krause, pres-need of a high pressure water system. A few months later, flames were one day seen coming from the window of a house adjoining the Standard shops, where the superintendent, W. C. Taylor lived. But the Standard had their own pressure system, and the boys from the shops unrolled their hose lines and doused the fire with comparatively little damage. The Progress then had a chance to point out what could be done with water pressure, and the Chamber of Commerce renewed their efforts to interest the citizens in the general need.

lesson to prove. Brea that incorporation was necessary as a first step toward an efficient water system, and from that time the campaign went forward with great vigor to a successful climax.

So when I say that the people of Brea should be very proud of the splendidly efficient water system which they now have, I hope they will agree with me that the first two publishers in the history of the town are deserving of considerable credit for their part in shaping sentiment in what appeared in those days a tremendous project.

And now that I have given credit to the early day Chamber of Commerce and to the Progress, I will mention several other institutions which had their start twenty years ago.

The first regular church services were held in a room at the rear of the La Habra Valley Bank building by the Congregationalists who started construction of the first church building a few months later at the corner of Birch street and Pomona avenue. This was followed soon by a building for the Nazarene denomination.

The first fraternal order to be established in Brea was the Maccabees, which had a large membership throughout the oil fields. I particularly remember that the Maccabees on several occasions gave boxing exhibitions in the hall of the new Sewell building, although it was necessary to import most of the talent from Los Angeles. At one of these affairs two huge negroes participated in a bout which was so plainly beyond the amateur class that it brought gasps of surprise from all over a large audience, and the victor was none other than Harry Wills, a few years later the frequent challenger of Jack Dempsey.

At the time the Progress was established there were no paved highways closer than Fullerton, four miles away. The city of Fullerton had just started construction of an extensive system of paved streets leading out to their city limits. The State highway was under construction and the first section opened to the public was that between Anaheim and Santa Ana. The road from Los Angeles was paved only as far as the East Whittier school. All the other roads were oiled as low gravity oil was cheap and plentiful.

He also qualified as a stockholder by investing in the stock of the new bank, which is a pretty strong evidence of his mature judgement of the profit possibilities of the new bank, for his knowledge is based upon a long experience with the grief of banking—and he would not be inclined to place cold cash on the counter—if he did not like the set-up.

The new Cashier of the Oilfields, M. G. Mc Mahon, is an old hand in the banking business with wide experience—and with a most genial and pleasing personality. ## BIRTH OF PROGRESS TOLD BY FOUNDER

By C. A. MEACHAM
Brea's First Publisher

Just eight days after my first editorial on incorporation the old Sewell building, a frame structure with five store rooms, burned completely down on a quiet night when there was not a breath of wind. It was apparent that had there been any wind to carry the flames, the whole town might have been wiped out. The Chamber of Commerce called a mass meeting to plan the purchase of fire fighting equipment. A couple of months later two small dwellings burned to the ground on the north side of the railroad tracks, and again the Progress called attention to the need of a high pressure water system. A few months later, flames were one day seen coming from the window of a house adjoining the Standard shops, where the superintendent, W. C. Taylor lived. But the Standard had their own pressure system, and the boys from the shops unrolled their hose lines and doused the fire with comparatively little damage. The Progress then had a chance to point out what could be done with water pressure, and the Chamber of Commerce renewed their efforts to interest the citizens in the general need.

...for work will be in November. Construction is expected to start in February, 1970, with a total project cost of $2 million.

Golf Course Due
 Recreation is, of course, still as important to Brea as it was in the city's early days. An 18-hole golf course with a clubhouse is expected to be completed by the fall of this year.

Two regional parks also are in Brea's immediate future. One will be under construction before the end of the year south of Imperial Highway at the intersection of State College Boulevard and Imperial. The second will be constructed behind Carbon Canyon Dam.

Currently, Brea is negotiating for two reservoir sites. One is at the north end of Valencia Street and the other is near Lambert Road and Berry Street. The city passed a $3.7 million revenue bond issue to finance the projects and has issued $1.2 million to date.

New industries attracted to growing Brea include Reliance Universal, which employs 40 persons; Macrodyne, Inc., with 40 persons; Sears Service Center, with 95 persons and Leffingwell Chemical Co., employing 40 persons.

The city's $30,342 general plan was adopted last year but agreement still hasn't been reached on the site for the proposed civic center.

City hall is at 401 S. Brea Blvd., and was built in 1929. It is from here that Brea is governed by five councilmen. Currently serving are Mayor Hamilton and Councilmen Sam Magnus, Robert Clark, Thomas Speer and John Hadcox.

The city administrator coordinates all departments and administers council decisions. At 29, — Wayne Wedin is the third youngest city administrator in the state.

Department heads are Kenneth L. Staggs, fire chief; Richard Baugh, police chief; Harold Wilson, director of public works; John Lane, planning director; Robert Schreiber, treasurer, and Dorothy Storm, city clerk. Martin Whelan serves as city attorney.

As Brea looks to a future of fast-flowing freeways, sleek modern buildings and ever-expanding industry, old-time residents never forget that it all started when the Indians discovered that the oil-soaked

City's 'Big' Building Hit By Fire In 1913

BREA—Fire destroyed this city's first "big" commercial building in 1913.

The Sewell Building was a one-story frame structure with a 100-foot frontage on the west side of Pomona Boulevard (now Brea Boulevard).

The building was occupied by several tenants, among which was the Enoch & Cowden Pool Room. A church group would clean up the pool room on Sunday mornings and hold services there.

The building was rebuilt in 1914 and still stands today occupied by the post office and several businesses.

Lucille Dwinell, secretary to the superintendent of the North Orange County Junior College District, watched the men in town battle the blaze. She stood by her mother's side on the front porch of their home as bright flames licked at the sky.

"I was only a child but I'll never forget my father bringing a fire fighter to my mother for her to remove a burning splinter from his arm. The heat had caused the wood to explode and a huge splinter was imbedded in the man's arm.

"My father helped squelch the flames and my mother removed the still hot splinter from the man's arm and dressed his burns," said Mrs. Dwinell who was then Miss Bush.

...traffic load increases.
 Harold Wilson, director of public works, told commissioners the proposed 60 mph alignment stays in the vicinity of the existing road. He pointed out that the plan still contains some adverse grade conditions at Ollinda Village.

The other plan shifts the alignment south and east of the existing road in the lower reaches of the canyon through the undeveloped area along the south side of Edendale and Ollinda Village. It would then cross the canyon and go around the north side of La Vida Mineral Springs and then back into the existing alignment in the vicinity of Sleepy Hollow.

Wilson said the highway possibly will connect with Lambert Road, which also will be connected with the Orange Freeway when it comes through the city.

Action of the proposals was continued for further study.

then easing, which was anchored at 2000 feet, just above the gas pocket. The constant strain of the escaping gas finally loosened the casing and the water entered.

In a short time, however, the gas broke loose through a water well which had been sunk about a hundred yards from the gasser. Here the pressure of the gas tore a great hole in the ground. Later the gas again broke through the original hole. Here a crater has been formed many feet across. When the well broke out the derrick and machinery were wrecked, and now all of the wreckage has disappeared into the hole.

Guards have been placed around the well, and no one is allowed to get within two hundred yards of it. All the electric wires near the gasser have been cut, and every possible precaution is being taken to prevent its catching fire.

From present indications, it is said, it will be necessary to allow the gas to escape until the supply is exhausted. Owing to the fact that the gas is escaping over such a wide area the usual methods employed to control wells are unavailable in this case. It is the belief of oil men that the gas is coming from a pocket which will exhaust itself in a comparatively short time. It has been impossible to estimate the amount of the flow from the well.

WRESTLING MATCH TOMORROW NIGHT

Brea Post No. 181 American Legion will stage a wrestling match tomorrow night at Sewell Hall, Brea. Konstantine Romanoff, Pacific coast heavyweight champion, is scheduled to meet King Nelson. This should be a good bout as both men are past masters at the art of wrestling. Irving Frank and Roughhouse Brown will go on as a curtain raiser.

HARBOR COMMISSION REPORTS ON EXPENSE

Expenditures of $488,326.18 were made during the year 1921 by the Orange county harbor commission in its task of developing Newport floor, according to the annual report of the harbor commission filed with the county clerk by Lew H. Wallace of Newport Beach, secretary of the commission.

Starting the year with $500,000 to its credit, the commission finished with a balance of $11,673.82, the report showed.

Dredging was the largest expense incurred, the sum of $248, should be made with the secretary by all those who desire dinner. The speaking will precede the business session.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR WORLD WAR VETERAN

Howard A. Thornton, veteran of the world war, who was wounded in the Argonne battle and died in the Froydos hospital October 2, 1918, was buried in the family cemetery at Artesia with full military honors, with Captain Brin R56, in whose company Private Thornton served, commander of the squad which fired the salute over the grave.

Funeral services were held at the Seale chapel in Fullerton, and were attended by members of the American Legion from Fullerton and Brea, the Womens Relief Corps veterans of the Civil war, and a large host of sympathizing friends.

The pallbearers were former service men: George E. Fordham of Fullerton, C. A. Koeppe of Brea, of the 91st division; A. R. Burns, past commander of Brea post, American Legion; Forest Hurst, J. A. Bantof of the U. S. navy, and M. C. Fiscus, overseas secretary of the Y.M.C.A., of Brea.

HIGH SCHOOL BANK TOO BIG FOR OLD QUARTERS

Because of the large amount of business being carried on at the Fullerton high school bank, it has become necessary to have the bank enlarged. Up until the present time it has been possible for only one teller to work at a time. Another cage is now being built so that twice the number of customers can be served.

Since the holidays, the bank has averaged about 45 dollars a day in deposits which are small and numerous and as the banking hours are short, the volume of business is quite large.

FULLERTON ATHLETES TURN TO TRACK WORK

With basketball started, Fullerton high school and junior college athletes are turning their attention to track and field stunts in preparation for the opening of the track season.

Last week the prospective candidates were engaged in taking the kinks out of their muscles, and in general limbering up processes. There is said to be an abundance of material at the Oil city high school and in the junior college, and the coaches are hopeful of developing some stellar performers.

avail themselves of this service and not only save themselves the trouble of sending for their new plates, but receive their new licenses at an earlier date than if the application were made direct to the division of motor vehicles.

Manager Swoffer of the Fullerton office of the club will visit towns in the north part of the county this week to accept applications for new licenses. He will be at the Brea Garage, Wednesday, January 11; at Stanley & Barton garage, Yorba Linda, Thursday; Wester & Young's office, La Habra, Friday.

Here is the latest information for motorists in securing the state license plates for the new year. Every automobile owner should read this and then follow the instructions carefully so that there will be no delay in getting the plates on the car in order to conform with the law. This 'dope' is given out officially by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Your 1921 certificate of a registration properly signed by the registered and legal owner of the car will constitute the application for a state license for the operation of a motor vehicle. Bring this to the automobile club, if you are a member, or to the motor vehicle department otherwise, with a check on a California bank, post office money order or currency for the amount of the fee which is based, as in the past, on 40 cents per horsepower of the car. To determine the amount of the fee multiply the designated horsepower by 40 cents.

Be sure that your 1921 certificate of registration is legible for otherwise it will have to be sent to Sacramento for verification before the application for new plates can be handled. No certificate of registration bearing marks of alterations or erasures will be accepted.

If you have changed your place of residence, make a note of same and the new address on a slip of paper which must be pinned to the certificate. Do not write the new address on the face of the certificate.

If you have lost your 1921 certificate, apply immediately for a duplicate certificate. Applications for duplicate certificates can be secured at any auto club office. If you have no certificate, secure one at once and avoid delay and confusion later.

Remember in buying a new car now that 1921 licenses do not expire until Feb. 1. In applying for new license prior to that date, you will be required to pay a fee the imprisonment.

A. E. Koepsel, attorney for four plaintiffs, replied to Meiden, citing authorities to that it was merely necessary to charge Hasley with having committed the false arrest.

Junior College Busy on Track

The prospects for the College track and field team good for this year. Shosh Yost, a last year's letter winner, was elected captain for this year and is getting things started.

The northern Orange county institution has a host of material to pick from. With Yost, Haw and Noble of last year's team, former high school stars such as Meiser, Stogsdill, West, Laden, Mullaney, Kirkwood and others, Fullerton should have a winning team.

Track work is to start in earnest today. The annual Southern California meet will be held in Fullerton on April 15.

The boys' basket ball team coming along in fine shape. They defeated LaVerne College Wednesday night by a score of 24-14. This was the second game of a series of three, LaVerne has won the first one.

NEARLY TEN MILLION INSURANCE IN FORCE

The Orange County Farm Mutual Fire Insurance company had $9,469,872.49 worth of insurance in force as of December 31, 1921, representing an increase of $984,426.95 during the year, reported holders in the organization will be informed when they hold their annual meeting at Santa Ana today, Secretary C. W. McNamara announced.

BIG WEALTH IN POLISH FOREST

The immense wealth to be derived from Poland's timber resources was recently pointed out by experts who made detailed surveys of the great Blawie (White Tower) forest, and reported that of the more than 300,000 acres of forest, only about 20,000 acres are taken up by inroads, roads, etc., leaving nearly 94 per cent of the whole area productive.

It has been estimated by German lumber men that this forest contains 12,000,000,000 feet of timber ready for cutting. Though the forest has never been exploited to its utmost, there Phenomenal increases in motor cars are recorded in this Auto Club of Southern California collection of old license plates. Contrasted with the 1934 plate at top, the "tags" show many changes in number systems and colors. Third from top is an iron marker made for members by the auto club in 1909. Fifth down is type used from 1918 to 1919, with emblems of brar, poppy and bell marking the only annual change.

TELEPHONE TROUBLES THWARTED BY PRE-RAINY WEATHER CABLE TESTS

It's tough to be a telephone cable!

Although carrying hundreds of telephone conversations hourly, some cables find life just one puncture after another. These voice carriers have varied misfortunes; some are bitten by insects, others are struck by bullets, pierced by arrows, speared by fishermen, strangled, electrocuted, pinched, cut or burned. Some cables contain as many as 3,600 separate wires, each strand covered with colored wax paper. When a pair tests "dead," the trouble shooter immediately selects another pair for service. But this isn't all, he starts a

What was generally considered as the first well of high gravity oil in those days was the famous Birch No. 5, which came in with a flow of 2400 barrels a day at about the time that the Brea townsite was laid out. In 1913 this single well was assessed by the county at one million dollars, probably too high a figure, but it attracted widespread interest and stimulated all kinds of business in this northern section of the county, which heretofore had been regarded by the more populous sections as being sort of "wild and woolly" or "way out in the sticks."

Also in 1913 the Standard brought in their famous No. 7 well on the Emory lease. This well came in with a flow of 11,000 barrels, or about four times that of any other well in California outside of Kern county fields up to that time, but it did not continue flowing for the long period of time which helped to make the Birch well famous. This was a "scoop" for the Progress as the news of Emory No. 7 was published in your home paper before any of the dailies got hold of it.

The Brea oil fields also attracted much attention from the fact that the first casinghead gasoline was manufactured here. The first plant of the kind was that of the Pacific Gasoline Company in Brea Canyon, under the management of W. A. Culp, and which had an initial capacity of three thousand gallons a day. Within two years time there were eight other plants operating in the local fields, some of these working under lease agreements and some owned outright by the producing companies.

Brea was the first town south of the Tehachapi to utilize natural gas for fuel purposes when the Birch Oil Company laid a pipe line into town and began serving local residents, and it was about eighteen years ago that the first natural gas was piped to points outside the oil fields. In some localities it was used "straigh" the same as in Brea and in some places it was mixed with the artificial or manufactured gas.

The California National Supply and the Oil Well Supply Company were already located here before the founding of the Progress, the Standard Oil Company shops were established about the same time, and within a few months time buildings were constructed for the Union Tool Works, Dietzel's Boiler Works and the Tay-Pike Company.

The Delaney building, where a newspaper was printed in Brea for the first time, had three store rooms on the lower floor and a rooming house on the upper floor. About the time this building was ready for occupancy, work was started on the McCarty building on Pomona avenue, which when completed, had accomodations for four more businesses, and a hotel dining room on the ground floor. The entire upper floor was occupied by the Brea Hotel, which made it quite a hotel for such a town in those days. Then about a year later the Sewell building was erected on the site of the old building which, as I have related, burned down in September, 1913, in such fashion as to prove the complete lack of fire protection. The new Sewell building had five store rooms on the ground floor, several office rooms on the second floor and an auditorium which was the source of considerable pride to the young and growing town.

With all of these building activities the town of Brea passed away from the cross-roads trading center period and became a lively little industrial city, keeping pace with the important developments in the local oil fields at that time. So, in closing, I hope that the readers will understand what a big part the events of those two years had in laying the foundations for the present prosperous and progressive city of Brea.

THE END

Many repair jobs result from bullets fired into telephone cables, either by mistake or purposely. The Fourth of July, New Year's Eve, and certain other joyful occasions add to the bullet problem.

Masons Decide On Sewell Hall

BREA, Nov. 11.—Members of the Masonic club of Brea at a meeting held in the Brown building the first of the week, decided definitely upon Sewell hall as a fraternal center for Brea lodges for the next three years. The matter has been in controversy for some weeks and all concerned are glad to see it settled.

Work on remodeling the hall, under the direction of A. A. Van Tuyle, has begun and it is expected that the lodge room will be ready for use by December 1. Other less important rooms will be ready soon thereafter.

Many local Masons have been holding demits from other lodges, waiting anxiously for the matter to be settled, so that the work of organization could go forward. It is said there are also many prospective members who were equally as anxious to see the work of organization begin.

Senell Block's Narrow Escape

The clang of the fire bell awakened the people from sleep at the early hour of 5:30 Thursday morning. ~~Also the boyish cries of "fire" calling "fire".~~

~~Pomona avenue in the business district center was~~ mingled with the clanging peals of the fire bell were the sounds of boyish voices excitedly called "fire".
Pomona avenue in the business center was soon filled with anxious property owners, and the curious who always run to a fire. Smoke was proceeding in considerable volumes from the entrance of Sewell Auditorium and the blaze could be seen through all of the windows.

J. E. Russell and wife who live in the back of their jewelry store under the auditorium, were awakened about 5 o'clock by a strange crackling sound directly over their bed. The sound seemed to come from the ceiling. Mrs. Russell exclaimed to her husband "It must be a fire."

Mr. Russell climbed the back stairs and saw a blaze proceeding from the floor in the center of the hall which was rapidly spreading. Using his skeleton key, Mr. R. succeeded in opening the back door, and bringing buckets of water held the ~~to~~ flames in check. He had forgotten about the fire hose in the front hall.

In the meantime the Russell boys rang the fire bell, then entered the building from the front. Don Russell pulled the tube of fire extinguisher from the wall and scattered the powder into the blaze. Assistance now began to arrive and a goodly stream of water from the fire hose in the hall soon put out the blaze.

The damage was not great. A hole about six feet square was burned in the floor of the hall. There was a meeting in the hall Wednesday evening, and it is believed the fire started from a cigar or cigarette thrown into one of the cuspidors filled with sawdust. If it had not been for the fortunate circumstances that Mr. & Mrs. Russell lived in the back of their store, the entire block no doubt would have been destroyed by the fire.

Brea Without Hall

Considerable speculation is afloat as to what will be done with Brea's auditorium. The Sewell building is owned by Mrs. Sewell of Long Beach, and she has given notice to the occupants such as judges and public organizations, to vacate the building as it is to be closed to the public. The Sewell Auditorium is the only big public place in that city and its loss will be keenly felt. The plans of the owner are not known.

Gleaned From The Progress of That Date They Are of Interest Today

September, 1913.

John Dietzel is having a building erected next to the office of the Regan Fishing Tool Co., which will be used as a boiler shop.

Chamber of Commerce doings:— E. H. Peterkin, of the telephone committee, was instructed to write the district manager of the Pacific Telephone Co. at Santa Ana and ask that a telephone exchange be established in Brea. C. C. Kinsler was appointed to write the county sheriff and ask that some provision be made for a jail.

"The Time Has Come—Let's Incorporate." The Progress heads an article urging incorporation.

On Monday the schools will open for the fall term. Miss Talcott, who taught last year, will teach again this year. Mr. Jepson, who held the position of principal, will again be in charge. The new teachers are Miss McKinney, of Los Angeles; Miss Snyder, of Fullerton, and Miss Keith, of Brea.

J. L. Sellers, shoe and harness repairer, makes his appearance in a tent next the Brea garage.

Dale Hoffman, Albert Allison, Harry Rankin and Ralph Swoap attended the circus in Los Angeles Wednesday.

A banquet was given Monday evening by the employes of the Puente, Brea Canyon and Birch Oil Companies in honor of John Dietzel, the popular foreman of the Birch Company, who has lately resigned his position, moved to Brea and started in business.

A fire that utterly destroyed the Brea Hall burned out the following firms: Russell's Jewelry Store, the Brea Restaurant, Epoch & Cowden's pool room, Matt Smith's barber shop, and W. E. Richardson's picture show. The loss is estimated at $4500, with some insurance.

ONTARIO'S TAX RATE

(By Edward A. Beals, District Forecaster)

The month of August was dry in all sections of the state, except a few showers occurred in the high mountains and near the end of the month in the desert regions near Needles and Yuma, Ariz. Temperatures averaged about normal and there were no protracted warm or cool spells.

The harvesting of grain was practically finished by the end of the month and favorable weather prevailed for threshing, which proceeded uninterrupted. Conditions likewise were favorable for the harvesting and drying of deciduous fruit. A large crop of apricots and peaches was gathered and the harvesting of prunes began near the end of the month. Some fruit in the interior valleys was sun-burned and some dropped more than usual, but the losses on this account were not great. A large crop of walnuts was on the trees and a fair crop of almonds and olives will be gathered within the next few weeks.

Pastures and meadows became very dry and some of the ranges in the higher mountains deteriorated to such an extent that it was necessary to remove stock to their home pastures. Stock, however, kept in good condition and there is still plenty of dry feed and stubble that will last for several weeks longer.

Citrus fruit made normal progress. An excellent crop of rice is practically assured and the sugar beet harvest is now in full swing. This crop where irrigated has done well, but in unirrigated districts is poor. The harvesting of the bean crop began during the latter part of the month under favorable conditions.

CALIFORNIA CROPS

The hop crop this year will total 14,000,000 pounds for the whole state, worth $7,000,000. Fifty per cent of California's 1919 hop crop has been contracted for by buyers in "wet" countries, principally France, England, China and Japan. The great hop fields of France and Belgium were devastated during the war, while the hop acreage in England was reduced one-half. For this reason there is a strong market for the California crop.

It is prophesied that California will be producing half the rice crop of the United States within the next five years. A year ago she was fourth place. From the outlook she will

City Council Monday night will vote on the railroad tracks to the Sid Lowry to make a preliminary map of Poplar avenue across tracks north to Deodara, thus providing an alternate route to the work for employees of the Pullman Rabbit Car and other cars in the area.

The present Pomona avenue is the north-south street that does not follow the tracks.

In an interview, Roy Monroe, in charge of the motion, said that the idea would be a "street of major importance" so that tax funds could be used to do the job. The street would be to match state funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

He said Poplar was the best street to extend across the tracks, because it was on the same level as the tracks, making an overpass unnecessary. The street will be on the east side of the Kirkhill plant.

The council has long recognized the need for a street on which workers could leave the industrial section. At quitting time the rush of workers causes a serious traffic jam at the corner of Cypress and Pomona.

Lowry said that the city has $20,686.76 available in its gas tax fund for street projects.

At present Poplar is paved to Birch. It will extend another two blocks to the tracks and one block to Deodara.

Map of High School Land to Be Annexed Examined by Council

A map showing boundaries of the proposed annexation of 30 acres owned by Brea-Olinda high school was examined by City Council Monday night and ordered sent to school trustees for final approval before annexation procedure is started.

The map outlined 20 acres of the high school site on East Birch still outside of city limits and the 10-acre parcel on the east boundary which the district purchased from the Union Oil company recently for use of the new agriculture department.

With final approval by school and city officials, the map will be sent to the county boundaries commission for approval. Council will probably start annexation procedure at the June 2 meeting.

Dunn Asks Position With City Planners

A letter from Max Dunn asking for a position on the City Planning commission was received by the City Council Monday night.

Dunn applied for the vacancy "if and when one occurs."

"The council is familiar with my activities in the community," it read, "but I will be glad to answer any questions about my qualifications."

Dunn was recently a candidate for City Councilman.

Membership Drive

A YMCA breakfast will be held Tuesday morning, May 27 at 7 o'clock at the Dutch Inn in Brea.

It has been announced by Frank Schweitzer, chairman. This will be a kickoff breakfast for the finance and membership contest.

Schweitzer said the contest will be on the Olympic games theme with two teams competing. Dick Mastain will be vice-chairman of one group with Frank Hopkins and Harold Yates as team captains.

Howard Stewart will be chairman of the second group and will have Vince Jaster and John Daugherty as team captains.

The Brea goal is $600 with a membership aim of 75, Schweitzer said.

Howard Campbell is the new general secretary of the Northern Orange County YMCA of which Brea is a part. The high school Brea is active under the leadership of Bob Prichard and plans party to start Grey-Y and are other clubs for the youth of Brea.

M. A. Neely, Chiksan, Speaks at Breakfast

M. A. Neely, Chiksan Co. personnel director, spoke May 14 at a breakfast to launch Business Day at Fullerton junior college.

Other businessmen who spoke at the breakfast were Jack Cushman, employment manager at the Anaheim Northrop plant; and Bud Kreimer, chairman, merchants' division, Fullerton Chamber of Commerce.

More than 30 local businessmen were guests at the breakfast, which started at 7:45. Included was Raymond A. Rogers, personnel director at the Union Oil research center.

After the breakfast, business education students at the college were taken by bus to visit various firms. The tour included a stop at the research center.

Mary S. Campbell, One Of City Founders, Dies

Services were held Monday for Mrs. Mary Eliza Sewell Campbell, 73, one of the founders of Brea, who died at her home in Los Angeles Friday.

Services were conducted in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. Interment was at Inglewood Park cemetery.

Mrs. Campbell was owner of the Sewell building, which houses the Safeway store and other stores, and the Masonic hall.

She and her first husband, J. M. Sewell, who died in 1915, were among the first to live in Brea, and made their first home in a tent. Her second husband, Judge Frank R. Campbell, died in 1944.

The original Sewell building, erected in the first business block in Brea, was a one-story frame building with a 100-foot frontage. It was completely destroyed by fire in 1913. In its place the present two-story brick building was erected.

Mrs. Sewell managed the building in Long Beach and later in Compton.

In 1932 she met and married Frank R. Campbell, Los Angeles attorney. They lived in Los Angeles until 1934, when they moved to Brea, where Campbell opened a law office.

Campbell, always a strong booster for Brea, was a member of the American Legion post, the Lions club, and assisted in founding the Coffee club. He served as police judge in 1939.

In the last years of her life Mrs. Campbell lived at 808 South Hobart boulevard, Los Angeles.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Derby, and Mrs. Virginia Meigs, both of Los Angeles; two brothers, Alfred and Adam Pence; and a sister, Dora Wright, all of Kentucky.

Member of the Brea Chamber of Commerce and the Brea Woman's club.

Property Owners Pay; Alley Will Be Paved

All property owners concerned have paid their assessments, and the paving of the alley from Imperial to Date east of Pomona will proceed, City Council announced Monday night.

Bids will be advertised for, and plans for paving of the alley will be submitted by the city engineer at the next council meeting on June 3.

In order to avoid extra charges for forming an assessment district, the property owners paid a cash assessment for the paving of their alley to correct a drainage problem.

ART ATWELL Church Brotherhood To Install Officers at Father, Son Banquet

New officers will be installed at a father and sons banquet to be held Monday at 6:30 p.m. by the Men's Brotherhood of the Baptist church in the church.

a fire broke out at Brea Saturday morning at 2:30 o'clock and the 150 foot front ~~of~~ brick building owned by J. M. ~~Soule~~ Soule of Los Angeles was burned to the ground. There is some insurance on the building. The building was occupied by J. E. Russell Jeweler; Mrs. K. Rankin, restaurant; Crock & Cowen, pool room; and Richardson's picture show. Practically everything belonging to these four parties was removed from the building and there is very little loss outside of the brick block, which, it is said, cost nearly $10,000. The Fullerton fire department was called to Brea, at 3:15 a.m. and several members of the company rushed to the scene with a chemical engine, ladder, etc.

but the building was nearly burned down before they reached that city. However, the Fullerton company did good work in saving adjoining buildings. It is said Mr.
Saul will rebuild at once.

Brea Lodges Plan Fraternal Center

BREA, Oct. 23.—Another meeting of the Masonic club of Brea will be held Monday night, in the parlors of the congregational church. Committees from the different fraternal orders in Brea, who were present at the last meeting of the club, have been asked to report from their lodges at this time.

At the previous meeting, presided over by Chairman L. L. Lemmon, a motion was carried to adopt plans outlined for the remodeling of Sewell Hall, the Masons to assume the expense of this work as well as the furnishing of the hall for a fraternal center. Other lodges represented may rent from them.

A finance committee, consisting of L. L. Lemmon, chairman; Ray Stein, L. A. Hogue, George Cullen, Charles Miller and S. L. Verge, was appointed to complete details of the matter and hasten the work. It is said the hall can be made ready for use by December first.

Plans as submitted by A. A. Van Tuyle provide for a lodge room, banquet and ball room, reception rooms, modern kitchen, dressing rooms, anterooms, property rooms and the present stage.

Buena Park

BUENA PARK, Oct. 23.—Sunday guests at the George McNeil home were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young of Santa Ana, also Mrs. Young's mother, Mrs. Blood, who had spent the week previous with Mrs. McNeil. Mr. and Mrs. Young were college mates of Miss Ethel McNeil when they were attending Pomona college.

Those from here to attend the entertainment and dance given by the Fullerton Fire Department were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Robeson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Owens and Perry and Beatrice.

Hallowe'en Frolic for Brea Teachers

BREA, Oct. 23.—Monday evening the Brea Woman's club is to honor teachers of the local schools. Entertainment will feature a Hallowe'en frolic and arrangements have been made to hold it in the kindergarten building on the Laurel school grounds.

This is the first of a series of affairs being planned by Brea people for the entertainment of the teachers.

Placentia

Two Ordinances are Before Board

BREA, Oct. 23.—The Brea city council today had under consideration two proposed ordinances, one regarding distribution of advertising matter by concerns outside the city, and the other providing for boulevard stops and other traffic regulations.

The first calls for a license for each separate piece of advertising matter and regulates the manner of distributing same, so as to prevent an unsightly accumulation of papers in yards and streets. The ordinance is so drawn as to prohibit distribution of newspapers and periodicals to any but bonafide subscribers, unless a license is obtained.

Although the proposed measures have been laid on the table by the council since its last meeting, it is generally conceded that they will be made effective within the next month.
